INCOME TAX IS RATIFIED

Favorable Action by Wyoming Puts Amendment in Effect.

CONGRESS WILL SOON ENACT LAW

Change is Sixteenth to Be Made in National Charter.

Washington, Feb. 3.—An income tax is now one of the provisions of the constitution of the United States. Wyoming's ratification today of the income tax amendment, the sixteenth change in the constitution and the first since the reconstruction—completed a list of thirty-six states—three-fourths of the union, which have approved the provision.

Congress now will enact a law to levy the tax, and it probably will become effective during the extraordinary session to be called by President-elect Wilson in March. The tax itself, its provisions and its limitations are all left to congress. The new law will probably supercede the corporation tax and provide for a tax on all incomes above $5,000, although there has been some sentiment in favor of making the limit as low as $4,000.

Will Yield Vast Sum.

Congressional leaders who have been prepared for the final ratification by the states estimate an income tax would bring in about $100,000,000 a year to the government. Now that the tax is provided by the constitution, the proposed excise tax, framed by democratic leaders in 1912 to get the supreme court's decision, which held a former income tax unconstitutional, will be dropped and some of its provisions may be included in the new law.

West Virginia ratified the amendment last week. One house in New Jersey and one in New Mexico have approved it. Wyoming's ratification was wholly unexpected at this time.

How Amendment Reads.

ENLARGED RIGHTS FOR CITIES URGED

New Governor of Illinois Takes Strong Stand on Utilities.

DUNNE TAKES OFFICE

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 3. Immediate enactment of legislation giving all cities the right to build or buy and to operate their public utilities, and an amendment to the constitution to gain the initiative and referendum and were recommended among other things by Governor Edward F. Dunne, in his inaugural addrss to the legislature today. Governor Dunne says that most cities today are not ready as yet to operate other than water works. To carry out the plan of municipal ownership, cities should be empowered to issue bonds subject to a referendum and reasonable safeguards.

"If such rights are given," says the governor, "it will force private corporations now furnishing these utilities to give decent service at decent rates or face the alternative of public ownership. Important as it is to give cities the right to manage their own public utilities, it is also important to give to state and local bodies large powers of regulation of the public utilities that remain in private hands.

The governor also recommended that the necessary legislative steps be taken to amend the article of the constitution which provides that the assembly shall have power to propose amendments to more than one article of the consitution at the same session. Governor Dunne says an amendment providing the initiative and referendum should be first proposed, after which amendments relating to revenue and taxation should be considered.

AWAIT SIGNAL TO OPEN FIRE

War Between Turkey and Balkan Allies to Be Resumed Tonight.

LITTLE HOPE OF STAYING CONFLICT

Besiegers Will Launch a Terrific Attack on Adrianople.

London, Feb. 3.—The war between Turkey and Bulgaria, Greece, Montenegro and Servia will begin again at 7 o'clock this evening unless the last peace efforts of the powers should succeed or Turkey decide at the eleventh hour to surrender. It has even been decided who shall fire the first shot, as Turkey has stated that she will allow her adversaries to take the aggressive.

The immediate object of the armies of the allies is the capture of Adrianople, which has hitherto presented such a firm front to its besiegers. Upon this fortress the combined Bulgarian and Servian armies, the latter well supplied with siege artillery, will concentrate their exertions. For the present, at any rate, the Bulgarian generals will simply try to hold the Turkish troops at Tchatalja.

King to Direct Attack.

King Nicholas, of Montenegro, has already started again for the Turkish fortress of Scutarin. The king will himself take the direction of the renewed attack. He hopes by capturing the city and thus establishing an accomplished fact, to obtain a better chance of keeping definite possession of it when peace finally comes.

In the western Turkish province of Epirus, which touches the Grecian border, the Greek troops under the command of Crown Prince Constantine have great hopes of breaking down the splendid defense which the Turkish army has thus far offered.

The Servian armies alone of the Balkan allies have completed their campaign, and have now placed many of their troops at the disposal of their comrades in the field. Some, however, must be kept in Albania, where a rising against the invaders has been organized.

It is declared that the Albanians with 80,000 rifles under the command of Austrian officers, are taking the field and it is rumored that they have fought a battle at Dibra, where the Servians lost heavily.

The Albanians are said to be greatly irritated by the wholesale arrests of those suspected of being interested in the provisional government.

Still Hope for Harmony.

While the possible renewal of the war may put a strain upon the co-operation of the European powers they have thus far worked in harmony, and the departure of Prince Hohenlohe-Waldenburg-Schillingsfuerst from Vienna with an autograph letter from the Emperor Francis Joseph to the Emperor Nicholas of Russia, gives additional hope that they will do so until the end. The Turkish government, like that of Bulgaria, will not allow newspaper correspondents to accompany the armies in the field. Mahmoud Shefket Pasha, the grand

TRAINS HIT IN BLINDING SNOW

Six Trainmen Injured in a Grand Trunk Wreck Due to Storm.

TWO LIKELY TO DIE

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 3.—A blinding snow caused a wreck on the Grand Trunk railroad at Edwardsburg, Mich., today in which six trainmen were injured, two probably fatally. The two most seriously injured are:

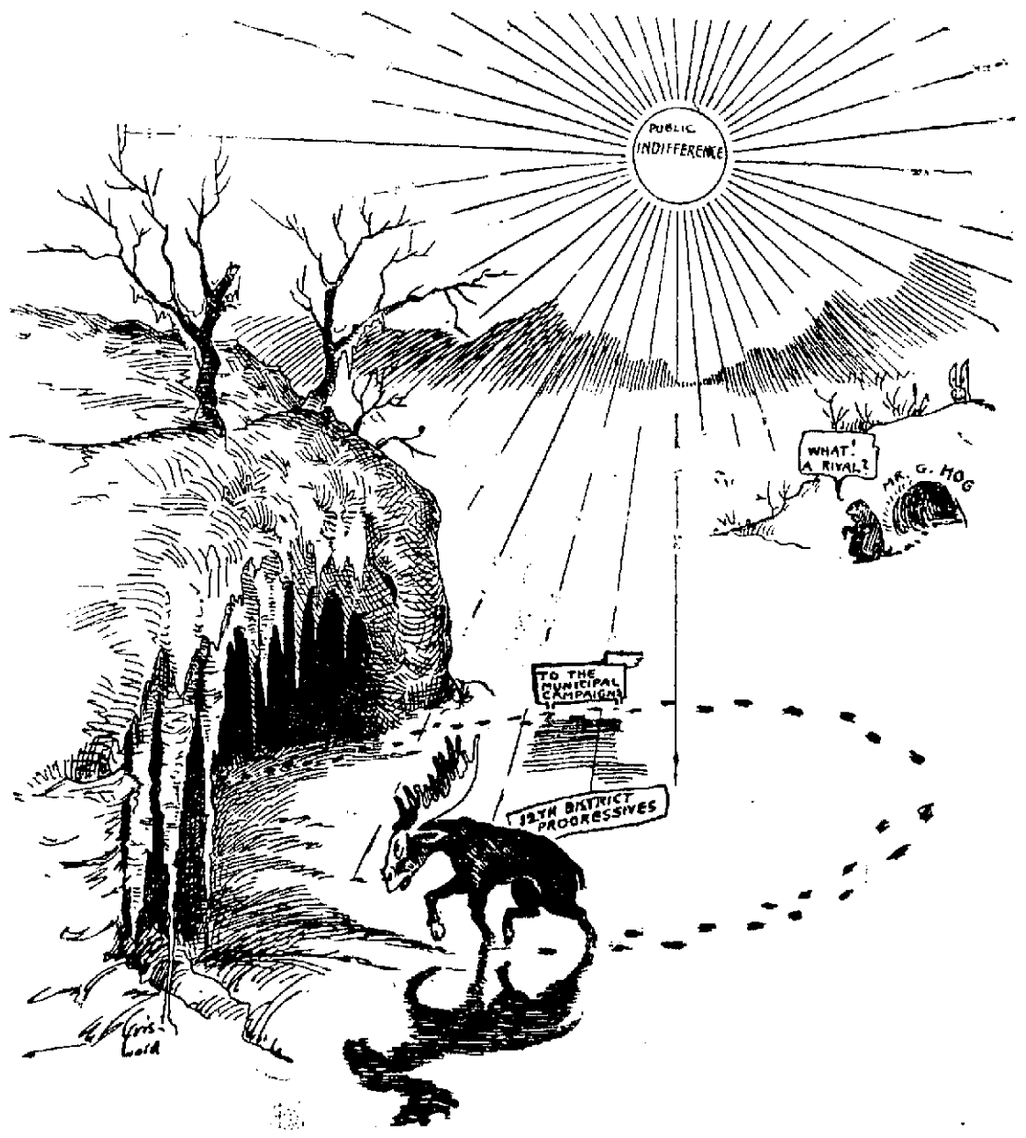
Arthur V. Holland, Battle Creek, Mich., five ribs crushed and internal injuries; may die. Bert Kuhn, Chicago, ribs broken and otherwise injured internally; may die.

Freight train No. 109 had passed Edwardsburg and orders had been issued to hold an extra. The engineer, however, failed to see the flag on account of the snowstorm and crashed into No. 109 while running sixty miles an hour. The injured were brought to this city

EX-HUSBAND, BELIEVED DEAD 40 YEARS, TURNS UP.

Wichita, Kan., Feb. 3.—For forty years Mrs. Alice Eddy believed Albert Clothier, her first husband, dead. Today she received a letter from Stafford, Kan., saying Clothier was there and would soon visit her here. Mrs. Eddy married Clothier in North English, Iowa, in 1865. Eight years after Clothier disappeared and she married George P. Eddy, who died in Atchison, Kan. Mrs. Eddy moved to Wichita two years ago.

The Shadow-Seers



EXTRA SIX WEEKS GOT EARLY START

Snow Storm is to Be Followed by Another Severe Cold Wave.

SNOWFALL 7 INCHES

Blame the groundhog if you want to, or blame any of the other old weather proverbs, for Fort Wayne is again in line for some more real winter weather. Mr. Groundhog saw his shadow yesterday, and it seems that the additional six weeks of winter got an early start after having received instructions from our well known prognosticator. During the night more than seven inches of snow fell in this city.

Now that we have the earth nicely clothed in white, Mr. W. S. Palmer, local weather forecaster, says we are to have some colder weather, and predicts a cold wave for tomorrow. He says that the thermometer will reach 10 degrees above before morning, and that the mercury will drop still lower by Tuesday night.

Reports from the northwest show temperatures ranging from 10 to 30 degrees below zero, and the cold wave area is spreading out toward the middle west.

Report for January.

Mr. Palmer has just completed his monthly meteorological summary for January. The highest temperature was recorded January 17 and was 56 degrees. The lowest was 3 degrees on the morning of January 31. The greatest daily range also occurred on that date when a drop of 42 degrees was noted.

Total precipitation for the month was 5.54 inches, and we had 10 inches of snowfall. The greatest precipitation in twenty-four hours occurred January 17 and 18 when a rainfall of 1.50 was recorded. One inch of snow remained on the ground at the end of the month.

During the thirty-one days we had nineteen cloudy days, six party cloudy and six clear days.

EPIDEMIC OF APPENDICITIS.

Twenty-nine Students Under Knife; Others to Follow.

Philadelphia, Feb. 3.—An epidemic of appendicitis has prevailed at the St. Francis industrial school at Edinton, near here, during the past week. Twenty-nine of the boy students have been operated on by Dr. Ellwood Kirby in a hospital in this city and four others will undergo operations tomorrow. Dr. Kirby stated last night that he believes the large number of cases was due to some microbe disorder and will make an investigation at the school. The boys' ages range from 12 to 14 years.

GAYNOR'S ASSAILANT DIES.

Man Who Shot New York Mayor Succumbs to Paresis.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 3. James J. Gallagher, the man who shot Mayor Gaynor, of New York, nearly two years ago at Hoboken, N. J., died today at the New Jersey state hospital for the insane in this city. Death was due to paresis

DEATH COMES TO WILLIAM PATTON

Well Known Business Man and Mason Suffers Cerebral Attack.

HERE FIFTY YEARS

William Steele Patton, a resident of Fort Wayne for the last half century and one of the best known members of local Masonic organizations, died at 4:55 o'clock this morning at the family home, 228 Brackenridge street, at the age of 78 years. Death was due to cerebral hemorrhage. While walking on the street last Saturday afternoon he suffered an attack and fell on the sidewalk. He was removed to his home, but medical aid failed to revive him, and he gradually grew weaker.

WILLIAM S. PATTON.

Mr. Patton was born June 13, 1836, in Ontario, Can., and came to Fort Wayne about fifty years ago. He worked about the city at various occupations for a time, and later engaged in the contracting business. Several years ago when J. M. Stouder engaged in the hardware business, Mr. Patton became associated in the concern and had been actively engaged in the affairs of the business.

Mr. Patton was a thirty-second degree Scottish Rite Mason, and was past master of Summit City lodge No. 170, F. and A. M. He also served at one time

CUTS THROAT IN COURT AS JUDGE SENTENCES HIM.

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 3.—Charles Briggs cut his throat in court today while the judge was sentencing him to four months in jail for larceny. With a pocket knife he inflicted three serious wounds before he could be overpowered. He will probably die.

WILL CLAMP GAGS ON COLLEGE BOYS

'Rah-'Rah Youths Must Not Rough House the Inaugural Parade.

WILL BE SUPPRESSED

Washington, Feb. 3.—Gags for college boys on inauguration day may be provided for by the inter-collegiate committee, the inauguration management, for it has issued warning that no college yells, cat-calls or other noisy demonstration will be permitted in the procession. Any attempt to on the part of the ten thousand college youths to "rough house" the parade, the committee declared, will be met with prompt and effective repression.

"It will be stopped all right," said one member of the committee. "The parade is a serious function and any attempts to make it other than a decorous and impressive affair will be quickly suppressed. We are making all allowances for the exuberance of the collegians, but they can't 'turkey trot' or 'bunny hug' or 'chicken flip' their way down Pennsylvania avenue. And there won't be any loud yelling, either."

Every institution of learning of any prominence has been invited to send their students to attend the inauguration. Princeton, alone, is expected to have more than one thousand men in the line of march.

The Suffragette Pageant.

The newest idea in the suffragette parade, March 3rd, is the display of a "society section" and in order that the rea lauthenticated leaders may be seen tramping along Pennsylvania avenue, Miss Stella McCalla, a daughter of Rear Admiral McCalla, U. S. N., is to be sent to Newport, R. I., this week as a missionary in the cause of political equality and to enlist recruits. This was settled on today with the national headquarters of the suffragists.

It was also determined that Miss Inez Millholland, of New York, will not be the lone herald to be usher in the parading systems in her wake. Miss Christal Eastman Benedict, a Vassar graduate, will also don a herald's suit of yellow silk and blow a trumpet before the suffrage hosts on the day of the parade.

SETS FIRE TO WIN FREEDOM.

Negro Locked in Freight Car Long Without Food or Water.

Roanoke, Va., Feb. 3.—Apparently none the worse for his trying experience, James Sparks, a negro, told the police today he had spent three days and nights in a locked freight car without food or water and then set fire to his prison in desperation in the hope that the blaze would attract attention and that he would be rescued. Sparks entered the car at Montvale, Thursday, and almost immediately after he had put his head into the car, the car, loaded with lumber, was locked and sealed. Starving and almost frozen, Sparks last night set his traveling prison in flames here and the fire department was called. When the car door was broken down the captive fell out. He was too weak to stand unaided.

CONFESS JOBS IN FT. WAYNE

Members of "Arson Trust" Admit Having Been at Work Here.

EXTENDED SCOPE OF FIREBUG RING

New Confessions of Incendiarism Come Out in Chicago Probe.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—Among the cities named as scenes of incendiary fires in confessions made to Assistant State's Attorney Johnson today by members of the alleged "arson trust" were Chicago, New York, Boston, Pittsburg, South Bend, Ind., Fort Wayne, Ind., and Waukesha, Wis.

During the recent conference between Johnson and State's Attorney Montgomery, of South Bend, six new names were brought into the alleged plot.

"We find that the arson trust had agents and connections in scores of cities in all parts of the country, but that Chicago and New York were the headquarters," said Johnson. "In continuing our investigation we shall cooperate with officials of other cities."

MENELIK AGAIN REPORTED DEAD

New Rumor of Demise of Abyssinian King is Not Confirmed.

HAS A HABIT OF IT

London, Feb. 3.—King Menelik, of Abyssinia, is dead, according to a dispatch received here from Addis-Abeba today. His successor, Prince Lidj Jeassu, one of his grandsons, entered the capital on Sunday with great pomp.

No official confirmation has been received here, however, of the death of Menelik, who has on several occasions been reported dead.

Prince Lidj Jeassu, who is said to have entered the Abyssinian capital as the new emperor, is only seventeen years of age. He was selected some years ago by Menelik himself as his successor. He is a youth of great intelligence, son of Ras Michael, a powerful prince and governor of three Abyssinian provinces, whose wife was Menelik's daughter. Lidj Jeassu speaks English, French and German, and has been instructed by European tutors.

There have been many rumors during the past five years of Menelik's death. It was reported at one time that the fact was being suppressed and that the empress was conducting the affairs of the Abyssinian kingdom until Lidj Jeassu was old enough to take the government into his own hands. This was denied officially. At the beginning of last year Menelik was reported to be paralyzed below the waist and uncertainty has since reigned as to whether he was really dead or alive.

AT WORK ON MESSAGES.

President Taft Preparing Drafts for Congress.

Washington, Feb. 3.—President Taft cancelled all engagements today and remained in his study in the white house preparing drafts of two special messages to be sent to congress this month. The first will deal with the proposed budget system, and with the second the president will transmit the report of the Alaskan railways commission.

UPPER HOUSE CAUCUS SOON

Democratic Senators Will Reach Agreement on Party Measures.

LEGISLATURE IS AT WORK AGAIN

Important Bills Are Up on Second and Third Reading.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 3.—"There probably will be a caucus of democratic senators tomorrow," said Senator Haruk, of Lawrenceburg, caucus chairman, today. It is expected that a registration bill and corrupt practice act amendments will be discussed. The chairman said that public utilities bills might also be considered by the caucus as well as other legislation outlined in the party platform.

The Indiana legislature reconvened today after a recess since Friday, the house meeting at 2 o'clock and the senate a half hour later. Both houses have a number of important bills scheduled for second and third reading.

Representatives Sands, of South Bend, and McKennan, of DeKalb county, have amendments ready for the Keegan measure regulating the sale of narcotics, which will come up on second reading. The Sands amendments would enable dealers other than druggists to sell patent medicine preparations that contain opiates and do not violate the pure food and drug laws of the state.

Another by McKennan.

Representative McKennan seeks a change in the proposed law so that physicians, veterinarians and druggists would be able to administer opiates for medical purposes. Members of the legislature have received notification from physicians stating that the Keegan bill would prevent their administration of opiates to patients unless the potion had been compounded by a druggist.

Another Keegan bill that will be considered on second reading pertains to the limiting of the hours of labor for women to forty-eight a week. The majority report of the committee on labor favors this limitation with the proviso that they work nine hours a day with a half holiday on Saturday. Representative Keegan favors this plan. Representatives Musselink, of Terre Haute, and Patton, of Lawrence county, have signed a minority report asking for an eight hour day, and a forty-eight hour per week stipulation. This was the original provision of the bill.

MAN AT 97 GIVES OUT RULES FOR LONG LIFE.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Augustus Smith, 97 years old, who claims to be the oldest living graduate of Yale university and whose claims was endorsed by President Taft recently, today gave out his rules for a long life. They are:

"Get to bed early every night."

"Take your meals regularly."

"Eat only plain and well cooked foods."

"Don't gad around all over creation attending balls and parties and things."

Mr. Smith is a lover of tobacco, although he gave up recently because, he said, "I sort of lost my taste for it." He was graduated in a later class than Garwood Harvey Atwood, who is a Yale alumnus of 1838, while Smith a graduate of the class of 1842, but the latter is two years older than Mr. Atwood.

Mathematics and Finance

A WOMAN living in the west end of the city bought a load of wood a few days ago and had the man leave the sticks out in the front yard. The purchaser had bought a similar load some time before and had hired a man to convey the wood to the basement of the house. This time, however, three small boys of the neighborhood, whom she knew very well, came along, and she engaged them to do the work, which would not tax their strength if done carefully. The boys were Stephen Bond, Cecil Conklin and Wayne Skelton.

"And I will pay you as much as I paid the man who carried in the other load," added the employer. "He charged me twenty cents."

The boys looked at each other and smiled broadly. The work would be easy and twenty cents isn't to be picked up every day in people's front yards. So they went at it with a will, and the pile immediately grew smaller outside and bigger inside, and then, finally it completely disappeared from the outer atmosphere. The trio of willing workers then presented themselves at the door to get their pay.

"You did very nicely, boys," observed the employer, "and here is your twenty cents," extending the money toward them.

The boys looked at each other for a moment, but this time they didn't smile. They looked real serious. Each seemed to be waiting for the other to speak. Finally Stephan said:

"Would you just as leave pay us fifteen cents instead of twenty cents?"

They looked serious.

"Why?" responded the astonished employer, "Don't you think you have earned twenty cents?"

"Yes, Ma'am," responded Stephen, "but how can we divide twenty cents among three boys?"

That certainly was a problem, but it was adjusted to the satisfaction of everybody concerned.

NOT SALTS AND PILLS 'CASCARETS'

If constipated, bilious, headachy, stomach sour, take a Cascaret.

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have back-ache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—do good—never gripe or sicken.

Hilgemann Again Heads Fort Wayne Brick Company.

The annual meeting of the Fort Wayne Brick company was held Saturday and officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Henry Hilgemann; vice-president, Max Irmscher; secretary and treasurer, Henry Keller; general manager, Ed C. Miller.

The company will increase its capital stock from $36,000 to $100,000 and will devote the $64,000 for improvements to its plant north of the city on the Lima road.

JANUARY HEALTH REPORT.

Children's Ailments Are Quite Prevalent in City During First Month.

The January report of Dr. E. A. Crull, city health officer, shows that during the first month of the new years there were forty-three cases of whooping cough, twenty-three of chicken pox and fourteen of measles. Dr. Crull says that although these numbers seem large, the three children's contagious diseases are not more prevalent than usual, as the physicians are reporting the cases as they appear. Other contagious diseases were reported as follows: Scarlet fever, five; diphtheria, seven, and infantile paralysis, one.

BUSINESS SHOWS A BIG INCREASE

Allen County is Not Much Affected by the New Salary Law.

BROWN GIVES DATA

While Calvin H. Brown, auditor of Allen county, is not particularly interested in a bill to increase salaries in his department of county governments, he has prepared a statement showing the vast increase in business since the salary act of 1895 was passed.

He figured out today that he will get between $80 and $85 more each year if the new law becomes effective and his interest in giving these figures lies in the fact that he desires to show why it is asked for and to show that it is based on increased duties.

W. A. Patten, auditor of Marion county, prepared a statement showing the increase in his county and the following has been submitted by Mr. Brown for Allen county:

	1895.	1912.
Assessed valuation of county	$42,102,460	$ 63,722,050
No. of names on tax duplicates	38,750	56,260
No. of items on tax duplicates	42,909	64,258
No. of mortgage exemptions filed (Acts 1899)	....	5,520
No. of descriptions transferred	4,625	9,760
No. of claims filed.	2,655	5,474
No. warrants issued	2,597	3,566
Total expenditures.	$845,690.35	$1,762,238.46

Population 1910, 68,689; 1910, 93,350. The population now is over 100,000.

MARION COUNTY FIGURES.

For the Sake of Comparison Mr. Patten's Figures Are Also Given.

Assessed valuation of county in 1895, $135,625,696; valuation in 1912, $251,146,125; number of names on tax duplicates in 1895, 65,495; in 1912 the number was 102,210; number of items on tax duplicates in 1895 was 130,900; while in 1912 it was 205,160; number of mortgage exemptions filed in 1912 was 12,731; number of descriptions transferred in 1895 was 11,878; while in 1912 it was 28,596; number of claims filed in 1895, was 3,377; in 1895 the valuation was $1,610,259; while in 1912 it was $5,849,626.21. And so on it continues in other lines he says. Mr. Patten's statement shows that the business of Marion county has practically doubled since the salary act was passed in 1895.

APPROVE LAKESIDE ROLL.

Columbia Avenue Residents Had Slight Grievance, However.

Property owners on Columbia avenue who were assessed on the cost of the curbing on Edgewater avenue, included in the contract for the improvement of Lakeside park, made it known at the meeting of the park board Saturday afternoon that they were unable to see the direct benefit of this improvement to their property, but they did not hold out against the approvement of the assessment roll for the Lakeside park improvement. The board also formally accepted the work done by the Moellering Construction company.

Scoutmaster E. T. Jackson, of the Boy Scouts, and a committee of his proteges, appeared before the board and an arrangement was made whereby the boys will clear the snow off the lakes where there is skating. Work was started this morning at Reservoir park and Swinney park.

The annual election of officers resulted in the renaming of Col. D. N. Foster as president and Louis Fox as vice president.

Several property owners on State boulevard appeared before the board to offer an objection to the widening of the boulevard, but were informed that nothing definite had been done concerning this improvement.

PLANNING GREAT BILLS.

Fine Programs for Jefferson Theater Which Opens Saturday.

The date for the opening of the new Jefferson theater, Fort Wayne's largest and most up-to-date picture theater, will take place Saturday, February 8. Manager Sprague Green has arranged for a splendid two-reel feature film for the opening performance and the music that will be provided at the new entertainment palace is something considerably above the standard that has been in vogue heretofore.

The Jefferson theater is second to none in the state in its appointments. The eye-comfort system has been adopted in the lighting of the place and while there is sufficient light at any place in the building to read a newspaper easily, the light does not interfere with the success of the picture on the screen. A modern ventilating system supplies an abundance of pure air without draughts, while the heating system is adequate to the building and insures constant comfort.

The Jefferson management proposes to establish a reputation as a leader in the entertainment line. No expense will be spared in securing the best films and features for every performance and there will be no weak bills for which to make excuses.

George Haas, of Chicago, traveling accountant for the Chicago Great Western railroad, visited over Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Kirkham and family, of West Main street. He was formerly with the Cudahy Packing company, of this city.

CLOSED TODAY

Our store is closed today for inventory. Tomorrow morning we will start another year: a year of value-giving. Last year we sold Men's and Boys' Clothing 10 to 20 per cent. below the price of any store that we know of. Our business increased every month during the year, which made a big increase for the twelve months. This will allow us to give you still greater values during 1913.

In addition to this we will decrease our advertising, believing our values will be strong enough to talk for themselves and to make you willing to talk for us. Our values are values you know about. We have EXCLUSIVE sale of the five finest lines of Men's Clothing, and the two finest lines of Children's Clothing. The two finest lines of Shirts, the two finest lines of Underwear, and the best line of Hats.

You seldom hear the other merchants tell who makes their clothing. Many merchants sell material not tailor work. We know that you must have both in order to have satisfactory garments. All during 1913 we want you to bear this in mind: "We need the trade of our present customers in order to give these values, and the trade of their friends and the newcomers in order to give even greater values, which we will do as our business increases."

Some Railroad Bills.

The Leyendecker measure establishing a board of four examiners for stationary engineers is scheduled for consideration as is also the Branaman bill compelling operatives of locomotive engines to be able to speak and read the English language, excepting those employed at terminals. Closely allied with these measures is the Cunningham bill, which provides for automatic doors to locomotive fire boxes, excepting where mechanical stokers are in use and the Gardner bill requiring that cranes on water tanks of steam railroads be securely locked when not in use.

The Stahl-Yarling vocational training bill and the McCabe measure permitting township trustees to extend the sessions of non-commissioned and certified high schools as long as the terms of commissioned high schools, are ready for consideration. Another school measure by Representative Dickinson, of Huntington, providing that one Saturday of each month be devoted to city, town and township institutes, will also come up.

The Garnishee Measure.

Representatives today began to pay attention to the Dillman garnishee measure which will be reported out. Although the committee will recommend favorable action, members of the house say they believe the measure is unconstitutional. Many of them have received letters from their constituents favoring and opposing the proposed legislation.

The most important bill to come up in the senate is the housing measure introduced by Senator Clarke, of Indianapolis, for which Mrs. Albion Fellows Bacon, of Evansville, has been fighting for the last two years. Senator Harlan, of Indianapolis, this morning was planning to make a number of amendments. He says he will not make a fight on the bill, although he is armed with a number of objections from an Indianapolis architect who charges that the bill is wrong in its fundamentals. The principal objection made is that certain buildings would be excluded which have "common right" to a "common hall."

Senator Clarke has been furnished with answers to the objections prepared by architects who are supporting the measure.

Ballou's Bill Scheduled.

Senator Ballou's bill, providing that county superintendents shall be elected directly by the people, is scheduled for third reading.

Senator Ratt's bill, for an annually proclaimed rat day to exterminate the rodents, is also expected to come up on third reading, as is that of Senator Grube, re-enacting the law that prosecuting attorneys shall appear in divorce cases where a bona fide defense is not made. The law, at the present time, has been held unconstitutional on the grounds of class legislation by some circuit judges of the state. It is to get around these objections that the bill is to be again put up on passage.

Another bill which has been announced as special order of business for today is that by Senator Sullivan, of Indianapolis, amending the drainage law so that courts may pass on legality of drainage contracts.

Will Not Urge Action.

Representative Combs, of Clinton county, whose bill providing for the calling of a constitutional convention is still pending in the house, said today that he would not urge committee action on the measure until the administration had indicated its pleasure on this piece of legislation.

It is understood the Stotsenberg senate measure, leaving the question of the calling of a convention to change the basic of the law of the state to the people, is gaining favor among the legislators. If this plan is accepted the people of the state at the next election will determine if they want the constitution changed.

Representative Carter, of Hammond, has prepared a bill giving the common councils of cities having a population ranging between 20,000 and 45,000 power to compel railroads to elevate or depress tracks across streets. Under the bill the railroads would be compelled to pay 75 per cent of the cost of the improvement and the city 25. If street car companies cross the streets affected, they woud be forced to pay 10 per cent of the cost, not to exceed $10,000. The city would then pay the remaining 15 per cent.

Miss Leffel in Piano Recital.

Miss Cleo Leffel, of Warsaw, a piano pupil of Marcella Thompson, of this city, gave an interesting piano recital on Saturday evening in the hall connected with Spiegel's piano store. Master Herbert Stephens, a boy soprano, assisted by singing. Miss Leffel is talented and has given much time to a development of technique. Her program was taxing enough for an artist, both intellectually and technically and it was not strange that she played some things much better than she did others. Her best work was done in the opening concert by Hiller, for two pianos, the Liszt polonaise in E major and a concert etude by Mellowell. The large audience was highly appreciative of this young student's work and gave freely of applause. Herbert Stephens sang especially well. "If I Were a Bird," by Henselt and deserved the hearty applause he received.

Prof. Clark in Fine Reading.

A large audience heard Prof. S. H. Clark on Saturday evening at Westminster church in a fine reading and interpretation of Zangwill's great play, "The Melting Pot." Mr. Clark will be heard once more in the same course of lectures. The next entertainment of the course will be a reading with musical illustration of "Lohengrin." Bertram G. Nelson, also of the University of Chicago, will give the reading. March 6 is the date.

The concert by the Fort Wayne Symphony Orchestra will be given at the Majestic theater tonight. There has been a good sale of tickets and an excellent program has been prepared. Mr. Paulsen, violinist, is the soloist for the evening.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"The Winning Widow."

Max Spiegel's "Winning Widow" Co., which comes to the Majestic theater three days commencing Thursday, is one of the most pretentious and elaborate musical comedy productions ever presented. Mr. Spiegel's past success has encouraged him to give the theater-going public a splendid show this season. The book, a two-act musical comedy, is the work of that well known author, Ed P. Moran, who has written some of the best musical comedies presented today. The music, written especially for "The Winning Widow" by Seymour Furth, is of the bright and beautiful kind that attracts one at once. The lyrics are by Ed P. Moran, another writer of note. The following people have been selected by Mr. Spiegel with great care: Mul Clark, Ben Turbett, William Marshall, Joe Freed, James Hunter, Miss Lovey Marie Greene, Leona Thompson, Flo Gillespie and Hilda Burton. Every one of these artists have been selected to portray the different characters in "The Winning Widow." The electrical effects are by Frank D. Thomas, considered the best there is in his line. The scenery is from the studio of Gates and Morange, properties by Tom Creamer. The wardrobe, which surpasses anything ever seen in burlesque for beauty and style, comes from the workshops of the famous Parisian costumers, Max & Mahieu. The musical numbers, marches and dances are staged by Thomas Grady, under the personal direction of Max Spiegel. A large chorus has been selected with due regard to beauty and ability. It requires a special train to transport this large company. Two carloads of scenery and electrical effects. There is a snap and vim to the entire performance that will keep the auditor on the qui vive at all times. The show is one big musical frivolity filled with good, wholesome and clever comedy.

SOME OF THE YOUNG WOMEN WHO "MAKE UP" FOR VISITING NURSE LEAGUE BENEFIT PERFORMANCE AT HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM TUESDAY EVENING.

Two upper groups—1, Katherine McCurdy; 2, Louise Pickard; 3, Olga Rice; 4, Beth Porter; 5, Agnes Maburin; 6, Verne Bowser; 7, Helen Puckett; 8, Marie Landenberger; 9, Ellen Doyle.

Lower group—Standing, Helen Harper, Jessie Orrock; sitting, Julia Kelsey, Nellie Wilt, Mrs. Arthur Rose.

The entertainment to be given tomorrow evening in the auditorium of the city high school building for the benefit of the Visiting Nurse league, promises a diversion for a little while well worth the seeing. There will be a short play, a billiken chorus some singing by soloists and the entire company, orchestra numbers and various other things equally entertaining. The cause is one of the best known charities in the city and with six weeks of winter peeking out of the hole the ground hogbid into after a short reconnoitre yesterday, any sum raised will be gladly received.

GIRLS TO JOIN WIRELESS CLUB

Young Women Interested in Fort Wayne Radio Organization.

WILL MEET TONIGHT

The second meeting of the recently organized Fort Wayne Radio club will be held this evening in the I. C. S. club rooms at the Knights of Pythias building, on West Washington boulevard. The members will adopt a set of by-laws and attempt to frame a constitution governing the purpose and aims of the new organization. A lecture will also be delivered, treating with the practice and study of wireless telegraphy.

Among other things, definite arrangements will be made for regular meetings and a program for the remainder of the winter will be mapped out. All interested in the theory or practice of wireless are invited to attend. Already the club has ten members, and among those making application for admission are four girls who are interested in the subject.

As soon as the club buys its apparatus and the equipment is installed and ready for operation, the organization will become affiliated with one of the national organizations of amateur wireless clubs.

Regarding the Inheritance Tax.

There are indications from Indianapolis that make more than probable the enactment of an inheritance tax statute by the legislature now in session, and there is opportunity here for the performance of a real service to the state that will far overshadow in importance a vast majority of proposed new measures now being threshed out in the legislative hopper. With the constant demand for funds to meet public expense, and the cry against increased tax levies, the inheritance tax which would claim for the state a share of large estates passing to heirs or legatees seems a most desirable provision. No thoughtful persons will be inclined to dispute the contention that the large estate owes something to society at large which contributed to its accumulation; to laws and conditions which made it possible, to the governmental protection that supplemented private endeavor in garnering a store of dollars. Nor will it be denied that so many of the larger estates escape a fair share of tax burdens during the life of the owner that it is but simple justice to balance matters by making the collection as the estates pass into the hands of those who had little or no part in creating them, and to whom payment can be no real sacrifice, for it takes from them no part of wealth acquired by personal toil or personal thrift. The law which bestows it is manifestly entitled to recognition as a primary right in the case. Uncle Sam is about to impose a tax upon incomes exceeding a certain fixed figure, and with equal justice the state may certainly insist upon its fair share of wealth it had a part in creating, but which comes as wholly unearned increment to its citizens in the form of inheritance to acquire which neither toiling nor spinning upon their part was necessary.

It was plainly apparent that the personal political fortunes of Theodore Roosevelt, William H. Taft and Woodrow Wilson were infinitely larger issues than the main question before the senate completed its three days' of wrangling Saturday and adopted the Works resolution for a constitutional amendment providing for a six-year presidential term, making re-election impossible and barring either of the three gentlemen named from trying it again. What the house will do with the resolution is problematical, but in the event of favorable action there the resolution must go before the states for ratification by a two-thirds majority before it becomes effective. With the income tax amendment as a criterion, there may be opportunity for the ineligibles to try for re-election several times before the new amendment gets into working order—if it ever does.

There will be unusual interest in Fort Wayne in the outcome of the case at Kansas City in which a circuit court judge is attempting to enforce a jail sentence of one day against Col. William R. Nelson, years ago one of the editors of The Sentinel, for the publication in his newspaper of matter held by the court to constitute contempt for that tribunal. Admitting the publicaion, Mr. Nelson maintains that it was merely a truthful account of court proceedings, and that he was clearly within his constitutional rights in its publication. Meantime, Col. Nelson has not yet gone to jail.

Is it possible we are mistaken after all regarding the high cost of living? If you happen to be in need of a seat on the New York stock exchange, you can buy it now for $48,000, while a few years ago the quotation was $96,000.

PRESS COMMENT UPON THE SULZER MESSAGE.

"Comfort for Conservatives."

Troy Times: "The message of Governor Sulzer on stock exchange transactions will give more comfort to the conservatives than to the radicals."

"Remedies."

Brooklyn Eagle: "It is to the credit of the governor that he realizes the danger of applying 'remedies' sure to do more harm than good."

"Admitted Evils."

Philadelphia Record: "Governor Sulzer demands that the admitted evils of the stock exchange shall be remedies. He does not attack the useful functions which the exchange serves in the world of commerce."

"In the Right Spirit."

New York World: "Governor Sulzer approaches the question of stock exchange reform in the right spirit. He makes no political appeal to popular prejudice against Wall street. He asks for nothing that is impossible and his message carries no menace to legitimate business."

"On All Sides."

Philadelphia Bulletin: "Governor Sulzer's message serves a purpose in giving formal and official utterance to a warning that is being expressed by spokesmen for the public on all sides at the present time."

"Prerogatives."

Troy Record: "Apparently Governor Sulzer regards the stock exchange business as one of the cases where he should not interfere unduly with the prerogatives of the legislative branch of the government."

"Will Be of Service."

New York Tribune: "Governor Sulzer's message will be of service to the exchange. A radical has spoken, yet he would not impair its independence or assail any of its reasonable and essential institutions. But its members had better put an end to the practices with which he finds fault before the next radical is heard from."

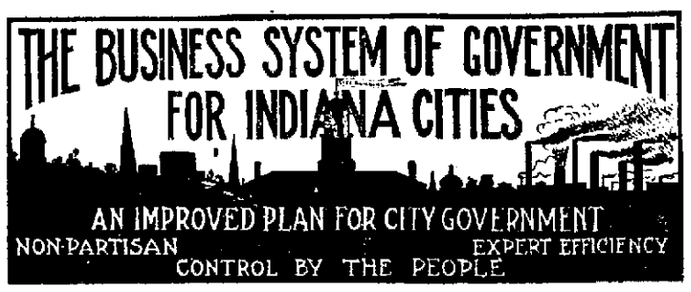
GETTING OUT IN GOOD SHAPE.

(New York World.)

Speaker Clark voiced the sentiments of most of his countrymen relative to the Philippines when he said: "I wish we were out of there in as good shape as we were when we got in." It is easy to get into trouble and it is hard to get out. To get out in good shape with no scars on the body, conscience or pocket is not often possible, but it may be in this case.

It is creditable to Mr. Clark and to the American people that they want to get out, even though they express a preference as to the manner of doing it. A wish to right a wrong must always precede a resolution. When the mind is once made up the cost of the undertaking will be no obstacle. Frequently there is more profit in renunciation than ever was gained by acquisition.

We shall get out of the Philippines sometime, no doubt, and we hope with honor. All that is necessary is to keep on wishing and to remember than we are not likely to find ourselves in very bad shape if we base our action upon the truths of the Declaration of Independence.



THE BUSINESS SYSTEM OF GOVERNMENT FOR INDIANA CITIES
AN IMPROVED PLAN FOR CITY GOVERNMENT
NON-PARTISAN
EXPERT EFFICIENCY
CONTROL BY THE PEOPLE

The fundamental principles of the business system of city government as proposed for Fort Wayne are identical with those principles upon which is based the government of the leading cities of the world. It is a universal or world-wide system.

Letters were written to the mayors of one or more cities in every civilized country—fifty letters in all—each containing a list of questions covering the main points in city government. We publish here the second installment of abbreviated replies to the following questions:

What, in brief, is your system of city government with reference to the method of electing the council, the mayor and other officials? For how long are they elected or appointed?

To what extent do party politics enter into your local government?

About what salaries are paid the council, mayor and leading officials?

Helsingfors, Finland, Pop. 117,300.

The government of Helsingfors is conducted by the magistracy, consisting of the mayor and three assessors. The right of decision in municipal affairs belongs to the city council, made up of sixty members elected by the citizens. The administration of the city is carried on aside from the magistracy partly by a number of salaried officials and partly by various boards, who are appointed by the council and who receive no remuneration. The city council serves for three years. The mayor, assessors and two chief health officers are elected for indefinite periods. City officials are sometimes appointed for six years and often on condition of six months notice on either side. Vacant posts are generally publically announced for competition.

There are no party politics in city elections.

The city councillors receive no salary, except the secretary, who is paid about $2,000. The mayor receives $2,500 per annum, city treasurer $2,000, city engineer $2,500 a year.

Melbourne, Australia, Pop., 538,000.

The city council of Melbourne consists of eight aldermen and twenty-four councillors. Councillors are elected by taxpayers and hold office for three years. The councillors in turn elect the aldermen for terms of four years. The lord mayor is elected by the council for a year term, and is eligible for re-election. All other officials are appointed by the council also, but on the recommendation of a committee under whose control such offices come, and hold office during the pleasure of the council, as a rule permanently.

Officials are never elected on partisan tickets.

Members of the council are unpaid. Salaries of the leading officers are as follows: Lord mayor, $7,500, a year; town clerk, $6,000 a year; surveyor, $5,000 a year; electrical engineer, $1,000; treasurer, $3,700; architect and building inspector, $3,200.

Frankfort, Germany, Pop., 335,000.

The magistrat is made up of a first mayor, a second mayor, eleven paid members and thirteen unpaid members. The mayor is selected by the king from the choice of three candidates offered by the city council. The second mayor and the eleven paid officials are appointed for twelve years, and the thirteen unpaid members for six years by the general council. All officials, including the mayor, serve for indefinite periods and are pensioned after reaching a certain age.

Party politics play no part in local elections.

The mayor receives a salary of about $10,000. The second mayor is paid about $4,000 and other officials receive salaries ranging from $2,000 to $3,000.

WHO WILL WILSON SELECT?

To the Editor of The Sentinel: Yesterday afternoon my son Ross handed me the February number of The World's Work, requesting me to take it home and read the second article of President-elect Woodrow Wilson entitled "The New Freedom." I did this last evening with a great deal of interest, for of course we are all interested in what the future president has to say upon governmental questions, and also because from his speeches and magazine articles, we are lead to believe that he is intending to give us a very different presidential administration from that we have been living under for three or four decades. This article creates in my mind, as I believe it will in the minds of other readers, a renewed interest or rather a renewed desire to know the kind of men he will select for cabinet positions.

Judging from this article, no prominent politician need be thought of, nor any man whom the people have made prominent by having been governor, senator or representative, or even prominent business men at the head of business organizations, railroads, etc. The men he will select are men who have never been so prominent as to be publicly known, like William Jennings Bryan. Much that he says in regard to the control that great centralized capital, and great trust-controlled manufacturing corporations have in the affairs of our government is very true, and legislation should be promptly devised to change this, but when he says, "In a former generation half a century ago there were a great many men associated with the government whose patriotism we are not privileged to deny or to question, who intended to serve the people, but had become so saturated with the point of view of a governing class, that it was impossible for them to see America as the people of America themselves saw it!" I question whether he has given the condition of political affairs at that time sufficient thought to speak fairly and truthfully. Quoting him further he says: "Then there arose that interesting figure of the great Lincoln, who stood up declaring that the politicians, the men who had governed this country, did not see from the point of view of the people!" When I think of that tall, gaunt figure in Illinois, I have a picture of a man free, unentangled, unassociated with the governing influences of the country, ready to see things with an open eye, to see them steadily, to see them whole, to see them as the men he rubbed shoulders with and associated with saw them."

This reads very beautifully, but is it the truth in regard to the immortal Lincoln? Who did he select as his close advisers and members of his cabinet? First William H. Seward, probably one of the ablest statesmen New York state has ever produced, but he had been governor of the state of New York and was the most prominent opponent against Lincoln for the nomination for president. He was a shrewd, active New York state politician and had been one for years. Next who did he appoint? Secretary of the Treasury Salmon P. Chase, who had been governor of Ohio, and United States senator, a man who was at that time a dyed-in-the-wool politician, who had the presidential bee buzzing in his bonnet for years, and who resigned from the cabinet in order to defeat the man whom he had served with for nearly one whole term. Who did he appoint as secretary of war? Cameron, of Pennsylvania, who had been a senator and who was recognized as the political boss of Pennsylvania for years, who established the rotten political methods that have disgraced Pennsylvania from his time almost to this. It is true he did not remain long, for the clamor was so strong against him on account of certain administrative actions, savoring of graft, that he had to resign. Then came the great War Secretary Stanton, who had been more closely identified with southern feeling at the breaking out of the war than with loyalty to northern sentiment. Edgar T. Welles, secretary of the navy, was a New England politician of prominence. Caleb B. Smith, secretary of the interior, was a prominent Indiana politician, and so right through the first members of Mr. Lincoln's cabinet were not men of the unheard of common people. But Mr. Lincoln was great in the selection of his cabinet, for he needed just such men to support him in the most trying times any president ever experienced.

The management of the able Seward prevented time and again foreign complications. No man without his great brain, his great experience, could have filled that place. Just so with Secretary Chase, one of the most learned, most cultivated, most able men who ever was at the head of the finances of the government. Only a man of his caliber could have raised the money to carry on that most expensive war, and prevented our financial affairs becoming as desperate as were those of the confederacy. Only an impetuous, dictatorial Stanton could have settled the many difficulties that arose, caused by failures and jealousies of army officers. Censuring them strongly when they needed it, and upholding them when they were right.

The affairs of this country at the present time are as different from what they were in Lincoln's time, as they were then compared with Washington's time. Two of the greatest men in history met the conditions that existed in a manner not to be criticised. One establishing the government and the other saving it.

BUSINESS MEN PLEASED.

Railroads Postpone New Storage Tariff Until May 1.

Local business men whose firms are affiliated with the tariff bureau of the Commercial club, are delighted over the announcement that the storage tariff ruling of forty-five hours, which was to have gone into effect the first of this month, has been postponed until May 1.

A. E. Decker, in charge of the tariff bureau, believes that communications sent to the Indiana railway commission and the interstate commerce commission by local business men, had a great deal to do in suspending the ruling.

POLISH YOUNG PEOPLE IN THE PLAY, "POLISH UNCLE SAM," GIVEN BY THE ST. HYACINTH DRAMATIC CLUB.

The above is a group picture of the Polish young people of the St. Hyacinth Catholic church, with their pastor, Rev. E. J. Wrobel, who participated in the rendition of the Polish play, "The Polish Uncle Sam; or, Birds of the Same Feather Flock Together," at the St. Peter's school hall Sunday afternoon and evening. It was given in the Polish language and those participating were in costume. In the group are the following: Adolph Guziejka, Gertrude Redmerski, John Petoski, Theodore Redmerski, Albert Staszak, Sophie Kleparek, Paul Redmerski, Mary Redmerski, Casians Switalski, Pearl Pilatowski, Al. Sienkiewicz.

The play was given in three acts, under the personal direction of Father Wrobel, and was most excellently put on the stage. It is probably the first time a dramatic performance has been given in this city in the Polish language and this fact gave increased interest to its production. A large audience heard it Sunday evening. It will be repeated at the school hall this evening.

The St. Hyacinth parish is one that was established in this city a few years ago by Bishop Alerding and it is prospering under the pastorate of Father Wrobel, who gives its interests his entire attention. The congregation now numbers ninety families. In the parish there are a large number of young people. A new church edifice in the southwestern part of the city will be erected by this Polish congregation.

KOSINSKI WELL FIXED FOR KEYS

May Have Gotten Most of His Loot from Wabash Baggage Room.

ENTERS GUILTY PLEA

A bunch of keys is believed to be the tool kit with which Joseph F. Kosinski, alias J. F. Rhodes, charged in the city court this morning with grand larceny, operated an extensive scheme of rifling trunks and suit cases at the Wabash baggage room. Kosinski, when arrested Saturday morning, was the possessor of at least twenty-five trunk keys, which would open practically every lock made. He also had a key for the rear door of the Wabash baggage room. Kosinski worked at the Wabash baggage room some time ago, but resigned to take a position as brakeman with the Pennsylvania company. He gave up his key at this time, but is supposed that he procured a duplicate key before leaving the employ of the Wabash.

When his room at 201 East Superior street, was searched after his arrest Saturday, $30 worth of gold used by dentists, a diamond stickpin, two unset diamonds, two revolvers, eight razors, and a quantity of other merchandise, was discovered. It is thought that Kosinski secured many of these articles from baggage left at the baggage room.

He entered a plea of guilty to grand larceny in the city court this morning, and was immediately bound over to the circuit court, his bond being fixed at $500.

Gets Jail Sentences.

Joe Dudo and Tony Kraishanko, the two foreigners who started a knife fight with Charles, William and Tony Ruebuck, last Wednesday, were each fined $5 and costs and sentenced to serve sixty days in jail.

Arthur Bowman, charged with assault and battery on Fred McKenzie, was fined $10 and costs. Bowman had been working at the Knitting Mills under Mr. McKenzie, but was discharged last week. Resenting his discharge, Bowman "laid for" Mr. McKenzie.

Bought Whisky On Sunday.

Jim Curn, charged with public intoxication, was released with a warning to keep away from the booze and care for his three children. Curn said on the witness stand that he bought his whisky yesterday in a saloon on Calhoun street, between Dawson and Highland street. An affidavit for violation of the Sunday closing law may result from this testimony.

Harry O'Brien got $5 and costs for drunkenness, while his pal, Archie Lafferty, got off with $3 and costs.

Harrry Fernwald, charged with drunkenness, drew $5 and costs and went to jail. When he is released he will face another charge of resisting an officer, as Harry put up a fight when arrested Saturday night.

Algie Ward and R. W. Vaugh, charged with embezzlement, had their cases continued until Thursday morning.

John Krickasino, who tried to commit suicide in his cell last night by bumping his head against the iron bars, was able to appear in court this morning, but he drew a continuance until next Monday morning. John is an Italian laborer, and it is thought that he is demented.

FOR SALE—Good paying business. Cheap if taken at once. Box 14, Sentinel.

GIVES B. O. B. BIG SUM.

Cincinnati Man Thinks Well of the Buffalo Lodge.

John G. Roth, of Cincinnati, a member of the supreme herd of the Benevolent Order of Buffaloes, who attended the first national convention of the fraternity, held here last week, has sent a check for $500 to the supreme treasurer, as a token of friendship to the order and as an offering of good will. Mr. Roth is one of the most distinguished members of the order. He is a prominent politician at Cincinnati, and was a national delegate from Ohio to the Baltimore convention last summer.

The Fort Wayne lodge of Buffaloes held a meeting Sunday afternoon at its quarters on West Berry street in observance of the success of the organization, based upon the reports shown by the officers who attended the national meeting held in this city last week.

CAN SUPPLY 500 WITH THE BOOKS

New Guides to Court House Will Be Distributed by Board.

NEWS IN THE COURTS

Five hundred taxpayers will be supplied with free copies of the guide to the court house, recently published and now in the hands of the county commissioners. The question of whether they can be sold by the board at cost and the money devoted to paying the expense of publication was considered in the commissioners' court today but abandoned when it was found that the books are being offered in the open market for the same price a single copy as the board paid for each of the 500 copies it purchased.

There were no reservations in the contract with Mrs. Georgiana W. Bond, the author, and she is at liberty to sell all she can through the medium of the book stores and at any price she may see fit. The county contracted for 500 at $375 and these will be given to the first applicants after some have been reserved for the county offices.

There is some doubt about the question of the board offering the books for sale and after going over the ground it was decided to give away the supply on hand.

Case Is Transferred.

On the application of the Fort Wayne Electric works of the General Electric company, the damage suit for $5,000 recently instituted against it by Fred Rempis was today transferred to the United States district court by Judge John W. Eggeman in the Allen circuit court.

Will Fight the Case.

In a suit recently instituted by Henry J. Kaiser against Amos E. and Elsie Houk to recover his pay for superintending the construction of their home on South Calhoun street, the court was today asked to have the plaintiff set out more specifically his claim. This indicates that Mrs. Houk will make a fight against the payment of the amount claimed. Attorney E. V. Harris represents the Houk interests.

Refused the Transfer.

In the county commissioners' court this afternoon the board declined to transfer a liquor license from Nathan Kaplan to A. J. Lehman. The latter came to Fort Wayne about a year ago from Chicago, and the board decided that he is an unfit person to have the sale of liquor entrusted to him. There were twenty applicants before the board and all were granted their renewals.

DEATH RATE NOT BIG AS IN 1911

Mortality Report Shows Decrease from That of 1911.

FIGURES GIVEN OUT

In his annual report of the work done in the health department in 1912, Dr. Eric Crull, secretary, says that the death rate in Fort Wayne last year was 12.10, as compared to 12.70 the preceding year. The births also showed an increase, there having been born in the city 1,407 children, of which all but six were white.

The death rate is probably lower than the figures indicate as there were 253 deaths in the hospitals last year and of these 120 were non-residents.

There were eighty-one cases of diphtheria with five deaths and eight-seven cases of scarlet fever with two deaths and only four cases of smallpox during the year with no deaths. The death rate from tuberculosis in 1911 was 1.13 and last year it was 1.01 and the deaths from preventable diseases of all kinds has shown a marked decrease due in a great measure to the untiring efforts of the members of the board.

There were fifty-nine cases of typhoid fever and seven deaths and of these three were residents of Fort Wayne. During the year the injunction against the board to prevent tuberculin tests for cattle was dissolved and as a result there has been a marked decrease of entero-olitis and cholera infantum.

The income from milk and meat licenses during the year amounted to $2,340.19, which made this division self supporting and the board returned to the general fund $290.65 left from the contagion fund and as a small balance from the incidental fund.

Repeated examinations have shown that the city water is in good condition and it is shown that constant attention to the storage of garbage in 1911 made conditions much better last year. The water was tested at frequent intervals and no colon bacilli found. In the report the heart co-operation of Dr. E. M. Van Buskirk, county health officer is noted and the recommendations are that the city take charge of the cleaning of alleys and pass an ordinance providing for care of stable refuse. The recommendations for public baths and a municipal abbatoir are also renewed.

Dr. George W. Gillie, meat and milk inspector, reports that he has carefuly investigated the death of all children under two years of age, to ascertain whether it came from the milk supply and says that in two-thirds of the cases where little ones succumbed to entero collitis condensed milk and prepared baby foods were used.

He recommends that the standard of butter fat in milk be raised to fifty points out of a possible hundred and that a central abbatoir be established as it is impossible to have slaughtering inspected thoroughly under the present system without enlarging the force.

Conditions in restaurants and hotels have been greatly improved, he says, and eleven first class certificates have been issued. He finds that none of the thirty cases of typhoid that had their origin in the city are traceable to either the water or milk supply.

Warden Fogarty Reports 1,252 Prisoners Now in His Care.

Michigan City, Ind., Feb. 3.—One thousand two hundred and fifty-two prisoners are now confined in the state prison here, the highest number at one time in its history. SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

INCREASED YARD FACILITIES.

Wabash Puts Third Track East of River in Service Sunday.

AGENT CULL BURIED IN DETROIT TODAY

Was Division Agent of Wabash Many Years—Shop and Rail News.

The Wabash now has three tracks in service between the St. Mary's river bridge and the city, whereas there was only one a year ago. It also has a double track to Hugo, about a mile west of the river. The third track from the river to the city was completed last Saturday and placed in operation Sunday and trains are now running over it regularly. This additional trackage helps matters greatly in the handling of trains in and out of Fort Wayne, as well as in making them up and in doing other yard work.

WHAT STRIKE MEANS.

Would Tie Up 50,000 Miles of Railroad East of Chicago.

As the date set for the final conference of the committees representing the managers of the fifty-four roads who are interested in the controversy over an increase in wages and the firemen on those roads drws neigh, interest in the affected circles increases. Saturday The Sentinel published a statement issued by authority of the general chairmen of the firemen, showing the position they have taken in the matter, and today The Sentinel publishes the statement of Elisha Lee, chairman of the conference committee of managers of the fifty-four roads involved. In part it reads as follows:

"If the railroad firemen in the eastern territory carry out their threat to strike, over 50,000 miles of railroads in the United States will be tied up.

"Their decision won't be made public before February 11th, when the men are expected again to meet the committee of railroad managers.

"More than 50,000,000 people depend on these railroads. These same railroads pay annually for labor over $500,000,000—more than a million and a half every working day. They are about 680,000 employes on the railroads in the eastern territory. Every one of these would be affected by a strike, not to speak of the serious effect upon the public, which is even of greater importance.

"In order that it may be understood why the strike vote has been taken, it should be made clear that the railroads in the territory have offered their men a minimum wage of $2.40 a day in passenger service. The present minimum is $1.75 though this minimum is paid on but few roads.

"In through freight service the railroads have offered a minimum of $2.75 per day. They have also offered increases of 10 and 15 cent per day on certain freight engines. All firemen working on freight engines now receive at least $2.45 a day.

"Some firemen in through freight service for instance are paid as high as $3.30 a day. In fact, there are cases on some of the very large engines where their pay is even higher than that.

"The various roads have different rates to conform to the peculiar conditions of work prevailing in their territories. The Boston and Albany now pays $3.00 per day; the Baltimore and Ohio $2.75, $3.00 and $3.10; the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western $2.90; the New York, New Haven and Hartford pays $2.60 and $2.80 per day; and the Pennsylvania railroad and the New York Central pay $2.85 and $3.00. These are through freight rates. Other rates differ according to the kind of service firemen are required to give."

DIVISION FREIGHT AGENT DEAD.

E. H. B. Cull the Victim of Pneumonia.

Commercial Agent A. L. Gilbert, of the Wabash, went to Detroit this morning and this afternoon attended the funeral of E. H. B. Cull, division freight agent of the Wabash, with headquarters in that city. The deceased had been ailing for some weeks and was feeling badly when he was in Fort Wayne a month ago to attend the meeting of the claim agents and freight agents held at the Elks' temple. His condition was not considered serious, however, and news of his death came as a shock to his Fort Wayne friends. Mr. Cull had been in the employ of the company a number of years and was the second Wabash division freight agent to be called by death within a period of four or five months, the other being W. A. Sprott, of Decatur, well known here.

RAILROADING FIFTY YEARS AGO.

The career of James W. Cooper, an engineer on the Big Four road, who passed to the pension list Saturday because he had passed the age of seventy, is replete with interesting incidents. Cooper began railroad work in 1859 in the capacity of brakeman at $20 per month and boarded himself. In 1862 he was made a fireman on the Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Lafayette, now the Chicago division of the Big Four, and received for his services $1.25 per day. In 1864 he was transferred in the same capacity to the Bee Line and in 1867 was promoted to engineer. During the civil war, while working as a brakeman between Jeffersonville and Indianapolis, he was assigned as baggagemaster on a train carrying a lot of kegs supposed to contain nails, but which proved to be gold, belonging to bankers and capitalists in Louisville. Morgan threatened a raid on that city and the gold was rushed to Indianapolis to save it. Cooper carried a number of the kegs from the cars when the train reached Indianapolis. He has handled the throttle on the best trains ever sent over the Big Four lines and was at the throttle of the "Knickerbocker Special" many years.

Lechler and Secretary John Werkman, of the Federation of Labor, with which the Bartenders' union is affiliated. Each made a speech.

MANY GO TO CHICAGO.

The Pennsylvania and the Nickel Plate did an unusual business in tickets to Chicago today, each road selling more than the agents expected. The attraction in the Windy City is the automobile show, which was held two weeks each in New York and Boston. The Bowser works have a big exhibit there, under the management of George A. Townsend, Jr., the company's advertising manager.

He was taken to St. Joseph hospital, where the company's surgeon attended him.

The Wabash had a train in service hauling away snow from the yards and depot platform today, which was an innovation in the service of the company at this point.

Master Mechanic Adam LaMar, who, with his wife, had been combining business and a visit with relatives in Fort Wayne last week, left Saturday night for their home in Chicago.

E. K. Allen, C. B. Bowen and E. Craig left for Chicago this morning to attend the automobile show. Marion Black and Fred Vordermark went to Chicago yesterday for the same purpose.

Boilermaker P. A. Jenkins, formerly of the Nickel Plate round house, took employment at the Pennsylvania shops this morning. W. A. Gerodot, a young farmer, also took employment at the boiler shop today. He is a helper.

Hereafter William A. Fosler, machinist at the Nickel Plate round house, will regard January 29 as a most important date, for it will mark the anniversary of the birth of a daughter, as well as of himself. Mr. Fosler now has two daughters.

He was formerly employed at the Electric works. Mr. Hull took employment in the drafting department at the Wayne Oil Tank and Pump works, on Canal street, this morning.

TEACHERS URGE NEW BILL.

Want Amendment to Minimum Wage Law for Instructors.

A. R. Parker, of Monroeville, and J. C. Tonkel, of St. Joe township, have returned from Indianapolis, where they have been working for the enactment of an amendment to the minimum wage law for school teachers. The bill was drafted by the Horace Mann alliance, an organization of Allen county school teachers and provides for an increase in the wages of teachers. At present the wage law has classes known as A, B and C, and an effort is being made to add D and E, the former to establish a wage rate of four cents times the general average in examination, and the latter to be four and one-half cents times the general average.

The bill has been presented to the legislature by Senator Stephen B. Fleming, and it is believed that the amendment will be made.

L. C. Brudi, salesman for the Raymond auto agency, left this morning for Chicago to attend the auto show.

GRAND INTERNATIONAL VICE PRESIDENT OF THE SWITCHMEN'S UNION AND SOME OF THE OFFICERS OF THE LOCAL UNION.

Here are the officers of local No. 78, Switchmen's Union of North America, who were installed in office Saturday evening, at the Harmony hall, on West Berry street, L. H. Porter, of Cleveland, Ohio, second international vice president, officiating as installing officer. Seated in front, reading left to right, are C. N. Taylor, of the Lake Shore road, president of the local, and International Vice President L. H. Porter. Standing in the rear, reading left to right, are George T. Sunley, of the Pennsylvania, recording secretary; L. H. Banet, of the Pennsylvania, chaplain, and George W. Thiebold, of the Wabash, financial secretary or treasurer. Mr. Taylor will also serve in the capacity of correspondent for the order's official publication. He was chosen Saturday night as president, when C. O. Worton, who had previously been elected to that office, resigned because his work will not permit him to give the office the necessary attention nor allow him to be regularly in attendance at the meetings. Mr. Worton and J. P. McClain, the latter chosen as vice president, were working Saturday night and neither was at the meetings. Mr. Porter made an address after the installations, in which he congratulated the officers of No. 78 upon their good showing in a numerical and financial way. He also talked of the condition of the Switchmen's union as a whole, which he declared to be very gratifying. "We have not experienced any great boom at a time, but our growth has been steady and substantial and today we lack only a few of having 15,000 members," he said. "As you already know, the association was established in October, 1894, and for a while had a precarious existence. Conditions began to improve, however, in a year or two, and in 1900 we had a sufficient membership to justify the organization of a beneficiary branch, which I take pleasure in saying is today a model insurance organization," continued Mr. Porter. "Since 1901, when we had the first claim to meet, the Switchmen union's beneficiary department has paid to the heirs of deceased members and to the disabled members the sum of $1,710,952.79, and has today in the treasury the sum of $184,401.72. And to meet those death and disability claims and establish the reserve fund, the membership paid at the rate of $1 a month on $1,000 insurance." Mr. Porter has been in his present office since 1900, when he was succeeded as president by Mr. Hawley, the present incumbant. While the president of the international union, Mr. Porter signed the charter of No. 78, which now hangs against the wall of the hall. His working territory as vice president, organizer and traveling representative of the union includes Ohio, and parts of Pennsylvania, Indiana and Michigan. He was a switchman for twenty-six years in the Collinwood yards of the Lake Shore, near Cleveland. He left yesterday for other parts of his territory.

GIRL WITNESS TO TRAGIC STRUGGLE

Prisoner in Ticket Booth She Sees Women Trampled to Death.

PICTURE SHOW PANIC

New York, Feb. 3.—Prisoned in the little ticket booth of a Houston street moving picture theater where the explosion of a film and cries of "fire" started a panic among the 400 spectators last night, Rose Siegel was forced to be witness of the struggle in which two women were trampled to death and a dozen other persons badly injured.

"I heard a cry from the inside, then a rush," she said. "There was a crowd of persons in front of my booth seeking to enter the theater when those inside rushed out. There was a crush against the doors, little girls, boys, and men and women all seemed to shout out together. My little brother Ned came running down the steps in front of the first rush and I saw him get safely around the corner of the entrance.

"The first half dozen or so got down the steps all right, and then they began tumbling. As soon as they struck the bottom landing, others were on top of them, and as there was a large semi-circle of bodies on the pavement over which the other persons ran. More fell and one time it seemed that the crowd was seven deep. I could not get out of my booth. I just had to stay there, helplessly hearing the cries."

The panic was caused by a boy crying "fire" when a film burned. It was a false alarm, for the blaze did hardly a dollar's worth of damage and was put out in a few seconds. The flash which spectators had seen, however, was enough to terrify them. It was a repitition of half a dozen panics which have occurred in moving picture theaters here, but the list of casualties was With over 800 similar moving picture theaters in the city, many of which Fire Commissioner Johnson says are worse than the Houston street place, the hazards are likely to be taken up anew by the board of aldermen, which has before it for some time a measure relating to the safety of moving picture theaters.

The worst moving picture accident was in Cannesburg, Pa., in August, 1912, when twenty-five persons were killed. Ninety persons lost their lives in a moving picture theater fire in Bolgvie, Russia, in 1911.

TYPOS SEND UP NEW HEALTH BILL

Was Endorsed by Local Body at Its Meeting on Sunday.

BROAD IN ITS SCOPE

Fort Wayne Typographical union's health bill, which was endorsed by the union yesterday and ordered presented to the legislature, is similar in many respects to the bill which the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor had before the legislature four and two years ago. By an oversight this year the Federation of Labor failed to get the bill before the legislature, and the Typographical union took it up when the attention of its sanitation committee was called to the matter by Dr. Crull, of the city board of health. Typographical union sanitation committee being engaged in a campaign for cleaner printing offices, called on Dr. Crull for his assistance in the matter, and in the course of the talk he assured the committee that he would help all could, but stated that with such a law as the bill contemplated much more could be done, and he was assured that the matter would be taken up with the union. In the meantime a bill was drawn up with some additions by Dr. Crull and some other necessary changes, the bill being drafted for the union by Attorney H. I. Smith in order to bring it up to date. The bill provides that printing offices, laundries, stores, factories, shops, office buildings, hotels and other buildings shall be properly lighted, heated, plumbed, ventilated and drained, and that floors, walks, ceilings, fixtures, furniture and utensils shall at all times be kept in a sanitary condition. Persons with contagious and dangerous diseases are prohibited from working in such places. Cuspidors must be provided and cleaned every twenty-four hours. The state bureau of inspection, boards of health and any officer thereof shall have power to enforce the law. Fine and imprisonment is provided for violation of the law, and a copy of the act must be displayed in each workroom.

Representative Koenig will introduce it in the house and Senator Fleming in the senate. Typographical union No. 78 has authorized the sanitation committee to draw for any money necessary to push the bill. The Fort Wayne Federation of Labor will next Monday evening be asked to re-endorse the bill and the Fort Wayne board of health's support is already assured.

RABBITS ARE DISEASED.

Captain Fleming Says They Suffer From Warts and Cancer.

Rodney D. Fleming, captain of game deputies, states that rabbits of northern Indiana are all afflicted with disease. He states that after having made a careful investigation he finds they are suffering from warts, worms and cancer. Recently in cleaning some bunnies that were victims of his gun, he noticed dark red spots, resembling cancer, beneath the front feet. Further investigation showed that most of the Indiana rabbits also suffer from the same disease.

A FAILURE

We told R. A. Crothers, Editor and Proprietor of the San Francisco Bulletin, that to convince him Bright's disease and Diabetes are curable if he would send us a case we would attempt a demonstration.

The result was that we were put in touch with a young physician who had Diabetes. He was so incredulous at first that he would not take the treatment, although there were no charge. When his case became extreme and he was in bed in a dark room he consented. Within four months from the date that Fulton's Diabetic Compound was sent him he called at our office in person to express his gratification and asked what we expected him to do. We replied that all we asked of him was to call on Editor Crothers of the Bulletin and declare the results. He did so. But it seems the disease was not entirely eliminated, for about three years thereafter his death was reported.

We do not make strong claims in young cases and were prepared for failure. But who can measure the value of those three years added to the patient's life? Who will say it was not worth while?

If middle aged or over we look for permanence in many cases (There has been a number who have been cured over ten years.)

Fulton's Diabetic Compound can be had at D. & N. Pharmacy.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

ACTRESS SCORES AN EVANGELIST

Sioux Indian Woman in Kendallville Moving Picture Show Attacks Evangelist Hamilton.

Kendallville, Ind., Feb. 3.—With the meetings held Sunday at the tabernacle, Evangelist John S. Hamilton, who has been conducting an evangelistic campaign here for several weeks, closed the meetings and will go to Albion, where he begins a campaign.

Quite a sensation was started Saturday evening when at one of the moving picture shows a half breed Sioux Indian girl, who is showing there, attacked Evangelist Hamilton in a speech she made to the audience. She said she had learned that Rev. Mr. Hamilton had stated during his sermon on the previous night that "a moving picture show is a gate to hell," and that "all actresses are immodest, if not immoral."

This formed the foundation for her attack and she denounced the evangelist in bitter terms, charging him with stirring up a "wet and dry fight" and creating discord among citizens, while he continued to reap a rich harvest. She also quoted the evangelist with having said as two young women arose to leave the tabernacle where he was talking: "If there is a cowboy in this audience I wish he would lasso those young heifers and bring them back."

Her remarks struck a popular chord with the audience and she was enthusiastically applauded. She repeated her remarks at each of the theater performances Saturday evening.

At a mass meeting held at the tabernacle Sunday afternoon, the evangelist replied to the Indian girl. He called upon persons who have been present at all of his meetings and proved by them that he had not made the remark attributed to him when the two girls left one of the meetings. He spent twenty minutes in arraigning his accuser and was warmly applauded.

The Indian girl appeared at a Fort Wayne theater a short time ago, and has another engagement in that city, where she has placed her daughter in St. Augustine's academy.

VALLOROUS BROWN ESTATE.

Executor Disallows Claims to the Amount of $25,016.74.

Columbia City, Ind., Feb. 3.—A new revelation in the Vallorous Brown estate, over which his children are starting a will contest for the February term of court, was brought to light Saturday, when the records of claimants and allowances in Clerk Harrison's office were examined, and it shows that Attorney William F. McNagny, of this city, executor of the estate with will annexed, has disallowed bills to the extent of $25,016.74, while bills amounting to $4,313.08 have been allowed.

The total amount of claims filed against the estate were $29,220.20, and this means that the disallowed claims will be litigated during the February term of court. The inventory of the estate of the late Vallorous Brown was $34,582.09. There was also several hundred acres of farm lands and other real estate.

HOOKER ASKS COURT FOR TIME.

Wishes to Learn Whether or Not He is Married.

Kokomo, Ind., Feb. 3.—Manon Hooker knows he is either married or single, but he isn't sure which. Hooker and a woman were arrested for association several days ago, and when the court suggested that they be married, Hooker made a novel plea. "Honestly, judge," he said, "I don't know but what I'm a married man already. I hope I ain't. It runs in my mind that I've been divorced, but I can't be sure. There's a law against a man having two wives, you know." The court admitted that he had heard something of the sort, and asked Hooker what he proposed to do. When the latter asked for a few days in which to find out about his family affairs, the court consented.

LAPORTE MAN KILLS HIMSELF.

No Reason is Known for Act Committed in South Bend.

South Bend., Ind., Feb. 3.—E. E. Simpson, of Laporte, Ind., a widower, 34 years old, committed suicide in the Avenue hotel here yesterday afternoon, shooting himself in the heart with a revolver. No reason is known for his act. He came to South Bend yesterday. Word from Laporte tonight is to the effect that Simpson was an employe of the radiator works of that city. Relatives are expected to take charge of the body tomorrow.

MEETS PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

Conductor is Struck By Falling Register and Knocked Unconscious.

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 3.—John Lynch, 30 years old, employed as a conductor by the Lafayette Street Car company, was probably fatally injured yesterday in a peculiar manner. He was checking up his register when the heavy iron coin counter fell from its position above the door of the car, striking Lynch on the back of the head and rendering him unconscious. Lynch was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital and still is unconscious. The attending physician says he suffered a concussion of the brain and injury to his spine.

PRISONER IS RELEASED.

Huntington, Ind., Feb. 3.—Martin Blozejewiki, who confessed to killing a man in Detroit recently and who has been detained in the county jail for a few days, was released Sunday and instructed to leave the city. Chief Baker has received messages from the Detroit police stating that they knew nothing of the man. It is thought that Blozejewiki had participated in a saloon brawl in that city and believed he killed a man who was knocked down by him. But he was mistaken. No one was killed in the saloon fight.

SERIOUS CHARGES MADE AT ELKHART

Affidavit Filed Against Police Chief Leads to Investigation of the Department.

Elkhart, Ind., Feb. 3.—An investigation of the police department of Elkhart is to be made as a result of charges filed against Chief Rinehart to the effect that he accepted $80 from the keeper of a resort.

Night Sergeant Albert Withers turned over to the police commissioners an affidavit made by Maude Lane before City Judge Lee on Jan. 27 to the effect that she had paid Rinehart $80 protection money during the month of June last year.

Chief Rinehart said that he was not yet ready to make a formal statement, but that when the proper time came he would be prepared to make a sufficient defense.

It is alleged that the present affair had its beginning a week ago last Saturday night, following the arrest and conviction of inmates of the resort of Eva Russell, formerly of Goshen, one of the women complaining that she had been paying fines too often, one of the times being last June when she was an inmate of the Lane resort. The contention of the anti-Rinehart faction is that this chance remark led to the discovery of raids, convictions and the assessment of fines which were never entered upon the docket of the city court.

JONES FAILS TO GET BIG FELLOW

Is Looking for Another Champion as Good as Ad Wolgast.

HE TALKS TO COULON

Chicago, Feb. 3.—With everything going out and mighty little coming in, Tom Jones, manager of the former lightweight champion, is bestirring himself to uncover another Ad Wolgast or as good a champion in some other class.

It's merry chasing that Thomas Edward is having these days, but he is not on the trail and before long a definite announcement may be made that will indicate just what Jones' plans are.

Tom has been talking earnestly to Johnny Coulon, bantamweight champion, lately but it is not known whether Johnny has any intention of picking up a live manager. The Logan square pet has worried along for some time now without a real manager and perhaps feels that his business would be better if he had one on his staff.

Jones failed to land Jess Willard, the big Kansas heavyweight, feeling that the price asked for Willard by Charley Cutler was a bit too stiff. Jones thinks well of his judgment since he saw Willard box in Fort Wayne, Ind., for he thinks Jess will need a lot of training and coaching to fit him for the real stuff of attempting to take that lily white title away from Luther McCarty.

Tom also is looking over a big Wisconsin hope and may possibly land him.

In the meantime Ad Wolgast is doing a little business for both of them up in the northwest. He is about to sign up Bud Anderson, the sensational Vancouver lightweight, as a sparring partner, and a possible successor to his old crown, now worn so jauntily by Willie Ritchie. Wolgast has wired Jones that he thinks he can secure Anderson and probably will start east with him next week.

Anderson is the young man who whipped Tommy Trott, the Columbus lightweight, so thoroughly in Los Angeles the other night, upsetting the Ohio boy in the fifth round for a knockout. He is described in the Los Angeles reports of the one-sided affair as a combination of cleverness and hard-hitting ability.

Philip Boullion, of this city, has made arrangements to open a novelty store within the next two weeks at Bellevue, Ohio.

Ugly Sores Quickly Banished

You Marvel How Worst Skin Eruptions Disappear as Result of Famous Remedy.

If you have been fighting some blood troubles, some eruptive skin disease, call it eczema, lupus, psoriasis, malaria, scrofula or what you will, there is but one sure, safe way to cure it. Ask at any drug store for a $1.00 bottle of S. S. S. and you are then on the road to health. The action of this remarkable remedy is just as direct, just as positive, just as certain in its influence as that the sun rises in the east. It is one of those rare medical forces which act in the blood with the same degree of certainty that is found in all natural tendencies. The manner in which it dominates and controls the mysterious transference of rich, red, pure arterial blood for the diseased venous blood is marvelous.

Out through every skin pore acids, germs and other blood impurities are forced in the form of invisible vapor. The lungs breathe it out, the liver is stimulated to consume a great proportion of impurities, the stomach and intestines cease to convey into the blood stream the catarrhal, malarial germs; the bowels, kidneys, bladder and all emunctories of the body are marshalled into a fighting force to expel every vestige of eruptive disease.

There is scarcely a community anywhere but what has its living example of the wonderful curative effects of S. S. S. Get a bottle of this famous remedy to-day, and if your case is stubborn or peculiar write to The Swift Specific Co., 127 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Their medical laboratory is famous and is conducted by renowned experts in blood and skin diseases.

THREE SIGN FOR SEASON OF 1913

Comebacks and Drafted Player Ready to Start Practice.

HAS THE INFIELDERS

Dayton, O., Feb. 3.—Signed contracts are beginning to appear at the office of President Elmer Redelle, of the Vets. Three documents, with names attached, have been received from Pitcher Ed Schultze, Outfielder Bill Harley and Infielder John Leber.

Schultze was a member of the 1912 team and wrote briefly that he was in good condition and anxious for reporting time to arrive. Harley was with the Vets last spring and played through the first week or two of the season while Punch Knoll was recuperating from a wrenched ankle sustained in the opening game. He is glad to receive another chance to make a berth for himself with the Vets and thinks he will stick for good this time. Leber is the player drafted from the fourth club in the Minnesota-Wisconsin league. He is wintering at his home in Cleveland and writes that he believes he will be able to earn a place for himself on the Vet infield.

While nothing has been heard from Earl Sykes, it is thought that the veteran will fall into line when the proper time comes, so with Leber signed up, Manager Johnny Nee has a complete infield under cover. Leber could be placed at third, Simms, the collegian, at short, Nee himself at second and Sykes on first.

Ed Schultze should be one of the mainstays of the Vet pitching staff next season if he secures an even break with luck. He was bothered a good deal by the chilly weather last spring and had a hard time getting started. Ed pitches in his best form when Old Sol is burning things up, and with a little warm weather to put him on edge in the spring he should go through the season with colors flying.

SNODGRASS GETS A SALARY BOOST

Error That Cost Pile of Money Forgotten by the Manager.

WILL PLAY BETTER

New York, Feb. 3.—Another evidence of the longheadedness of John J. McGraw, manager of the Giants, came to light in the announcement that Snodgrass had been given a contract with an increase in pay for the season 1913. The Californian, it will be remembered, is the outfielder who gave the Boston Red Sox the deciding game in the championship series by muffing a fly ball. More abuse has been heaped upon him for that little gift than almost any other professional ball player ever received at the hands of a baseball public. Even Merkle, who in a previous championship game failed to touch the second base, failed to be so strongly reviled against as the over-confident or unfortunate Snodgrass.

But does Manager McGraw take the same attitude as does the realm of fandom? Not much. Instead of cutting Snodgrass's salary, he gives him a substantial boost. And what is the result? Snodgrass, it is a safe bet, will play the game of his life during the coming season. The boost in salary assures him that Manager McGraw has not lost confidence in his ability and realizes that the muff was one of the vicissitudes of baseball; an error, unfortunate to say the least, but one of the uncertainties of the great national game. He will put forth his best effort, will try to live down the event, for such it was in baseball history, and may be the means of bringing the championship rags again to the Giants. Certainly he will do his full share of work in an endeavor to attain that end.

McGraw's policy of lending a hand to the man who is down instead of adding a few vicious kicks brought its reward in the Merkle case. John stood by Merkle when the air was full of beratings against Merkle. The latter played brilliant ball last season and it is safe to say that if Manager McGraw desired number to be committed Merkle would be the first to respond to undertake the task so strongly does he feel for the astute manager.

THINK RULES STRINGENT.

Swedish Authorities Think Athletic Rules Ought to Be Modified.

Stockholm, Sweden, Feb. 3.—The case of Thorpe, the American Indian collegian, who was crowned by King Gustavus here last summer as the world's greatest athlete, and has been disqualified by his confession of professionalism, continues to cause considerable stir in Swedish athletic circles.

Many prominent athletes here declare that the rules are too severe ever to be adhered to strictly, and they suggest that new and less stringent rules be substituted. It is declared that many exceptions are made to present rules giving reimbursement to true amateurs in the form of pay for the salaries lost during training. This practice of making exceptions, particularly in the case of athletes who are poor, has made it difficult to tell where to draw the line.

FORT WAYNE BASE BALL PATRONS MAY SEE GREAT INDIAN ATHLETE.

Springfield, O., Feb. 3.—How would the local baseball fans like to see Jim Thorpe, the wonderful Indian athlete, who has come into such great prominence because of the charge of "professionalism," in the line-up of the Reapers the coming season?

There is a possibility of him landing with the local club. The announcement is made that Thorpe has signed with the New York Giants. Well, the Indianapolis club is to be a farm for the Giants and the Reapers will be composed of players turned over by the Indianapolis team.

Thorpe has never played anything but college and Class D ball. The latter is quite a jump to the majors and few make good from the start. The Indian may need more seasoning, and if he does, Manager McGraw will probably send him to Indianapolis. If he should happen to fall there then there is a chance of him landing with the Reapers. He would certainly be a great drawing card over the new Central league circuit.

The suggestion is made that too many major league clubs were after his services for him to get out of the big show. That may be true now but the scouts of these same clubs will look him over in the Giants' spring training camp, and if he is wanting there will be no trouble in securing waivers on him.

CHANCE WILL OPEN THE SEASON IN MOST SPECTACULAR MANNER.

FRANK CHANCE.

Chicago, Feb. 3. Frank Chance's debut as an American league manager is likely to be one of the most spectacular events of baseball this year. The Washington club will get under way with a full treasury, for New York is slated to open the season in Washington, according to the present plans of the schedule makers. On April 10, weather permitting, Chance will lead his Highlanders against Clark Griffith's men in a series of four games.

In addition to Chance's debut President-elect Wilson is expected to make his first appearance at a ball game as the national executive. He has been invited to be present and toss the first ball into the diamond. Washington will be the baseball center on opening day.

Chance is unfortunate in one thing, however. He is forced to face one of the hardest teams in the American league in his opening series. If the Highlanders can split even, they will be doing better than anyone can reasonably expect. But if Chance should spur his team along to carry off the opening series, it would be a great feather in his cap and do more to make his team a winner than any other circumstance.

Griffith has a great team. It was a team that had to be reckoned with all last summer. It was a pennant possibility until the season was over half gone and must be regarded as a flag contender this year. It should be a better team this season than it was last.

Griffith has one of the greatest pitchers in the business as the nucleus of his organization. Walter Johnson has no superior. Even Ed Walsh can claim no decided superiority over the Washington star. Aside from Johnson, Griffith has two other pitchers who won 50 per cent. of their games in Groome and Cashion. Long Tom Hughes also was on the winning side, but only by a slight margin of two games.

If Griffith can develop a fourth pitcher who can win 50 per cent. of his battles or a little better than that, his men have an excellent chance for the American league flag. He has Vaughn and Walker, who are among the old-timers, and they are likely to be good enough in streaks to win several games and allow Johnson and Groome to rest. Among the youngsters who will have a trial are Dent, Droham, Bickers, Austin, Engel and Barton. Griffith has ordered his hurlers to report in Washington by Feb. 15 at the latest and he will put them through a course of gymnasium training at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. Griff wants to have all the soreness out of their muscles before they start pitching. He has hopes of finding one real twirler in the lot.

BASKET BALL IS RIPE FOR LEAGUE

Would Intensify Interest and Help the Door Receipts.

PLENTY OF CLUBS

Basket ball's immense strides in popularity in Fort Wayne and in the towns and cities immediately surrounding it point to the fact that the game is ready for the organization of a league to embrace cities within a radius of sixty miles of this city.

There are the Friars and St. Mary's Athletics in Fort Wayne, the Wabash A. A., Lima White Stars, Monescots, of Findlay, and another club that could be picked up in this vicinity that would go to making a six-club circuit.

These are all high class clubs and the great advantage to be gained would be creation of rivalry, employment of unbiased referees and better receipts at the doors. Most of the men who are in the game now are in it for the sport, and it is certain that just as good an article of play could be put on and that any pecuniary benefit that is being obtained by the men could be increased.

It would not necessarily prevent the clubs from putting on games with college teams and other strong independents as these could be sandwiched in to good advantage between the regularly scheduled games. There is no stimulant to sport like rivalry. This has already been manifested in the intrest taken in the elimination series proposed by the Friars and the Saints.

There will be packed houses at every game played and while this could not always be expected under organized basket ball the attendance would be just as big as it is now and probably more people would be attracted.

Under the present system the patrons hardly get acquainted with the visiting players but if each club should play two or three games each season the people would soon learn to know and become interested in the men. Two teams in Fort Wayne could be supported easily. They are supported now and there is no good reason why they shouldn't be under a regular schedule.

A couple of clubs here would give the local patrons plenty of basket ball to satisfy their appetites, there would be a championship at stake and an organization for next season appears to be about the best thing the game could have.

There are two big games on tap for this week. On Friday night the Friars will play against the team from Lake Forest college, and on Saturday the Saints will meet the Monescots of Findlay, O.

Both of these games will attract big crowds as the college club is one of the strongest in the west and the Monescots have shown exceptional speed in their only appearance. Tonight the Active and Junior Turners will meet at Turner hall on Superior street, and Friday the high school boys will go to Huntington for a game and the high school girls will play Decatur at the James H. Smart school building.

TEAM IS IN GOOD SHAPE.

Concordia Substitute Show Well in the First Chance They Have.

Concordia's bad luck in having a couple of men out of the game indicated that the basket ball club is in good shape and can stand a handicap as the substitute put in for Day in the Defiance game played good ball and helped win 31 to 16. Score and line-up:

ONE MORE BIG GAME.

New York, Feb. 3.—Report that the Dartmouth football authorities are considering a game with the Carlisle Indians in New York next fall is current in sporting circles. The fact that Dartmouth has been dropped from the Harvard schedule leaves room for another big game and it is said that the Dartmouth authorities have had a conference with Glenn Warner, the Carlisle coach, regarding the proposition of a game in New York. New York city has not had a big football game in several seasons.

ANDERSON SIGNS AT TERRE HAUTE

Says He Will Invest in Club and Give the City His Best.

TICKET SALE STILL ON

Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 3.—Edward J. Anderson, last season part owner and manager of the Wheeling Central league club, has sent his signed contract to A. W. Wagner, who still holds the local baseball franchise, and he will be at the head of the club no matter whether the present owner retains it or it is purchased by the business men who are making rapid strides toward buying it through the sale of season tickets.

The franchise is far too valuable for Mr. Wagner to surrender it or sell it out of the league, which he couldn't do without the consent of the directors, and it is a safe bet that the new manager will be at the head of the team no matter what the outcome of the ticket sale may be.

In the letter accompanying his contract Anderson said:

"I am assured that the season ticket plan will be a success and I am ready to put my savings into stock in the club. With such leading business men and fans behind the team the season ticket proposition cannot fail and I expect to realize on my investment. Had the business men not shown an admirable spirit in the matter I would hardly have cared to tackle the job, but with the public spirited men of Terre Haute pulling for the club, there can be no failure.

"Personally, I will do all in my power to make the club a winner. I intend to devote all my time to the task and, as I have some splendid material to go on, I believe I can safely say that I will have a club that Terre Haute can be justly proud of. Mind you, I am not claiming the pennant, but I'll give the fans the best I can. The players will give me their best services, too, you can bank on that."

Owner Wagner was more than pleased when the contract was received. He said:

"I am satisfied I have secured a first-class man to direct the destiny of the club in 1913. Anderson in my estimation is an ideal leader. He is a fearless fighter, knows the game and is capable of instilling a never say die spirit into his men that is sure to count. I expect him to take the club and put it in the running from start to finish. He will be given a free hand, will be absolute master of the pack and his decision will be final.

"Like Anderson, I believe the fans are sincere in their desire to keep the club in Terre Haute and I will spare no money in an effort to secure a winner. I think the season ticket plan will go through and that Terre Haute will see a better article of ball next season than ever before."

Anderson will have a good start when he takes hold as there are some good men already on the Terre Haute staff. The list embraces infielders, Dolan, Pick, Rason, Stevenson, Porter, Blake; outfielders, Miller, Wheeler, Snyder, Kinser; pitchers, Cantwell, Madden, Doyle, Jones, Pattison, Calbert, Markham; catchers, Hargrove, Holder, Parker.

Anderson will play the outfield and he was signed largely on his showing last season with the Wheeling club when his courage was put to the test, and where he battled under the most discouraging conditions and gave Stogie patrons a brand of baseball they had never seen before, but which they evidently did not appreciate.

Another happening of note was an offer from the Dayton management for the services of Pitcher Madden, last season with South Bend, and lately secured from the Cubs. Elmer Redelle, who opened the negotiations, wanted to trade a pitcher and some money for the local hurler but his offer was turned down as Madden is one of the best left-handers the Central league has ever seen and will be badly needed on the Tot pitching staff.

MAGEE WANTS TO CHANGE.

Asks Manager Charles Dooin to Let Him Play First Base.

Philadelphia, Feb. 3.—Sherwood Magee wants to play first base for the Phillies. Magee came down from his Buffalo home yesterday and after talking over the training trip with Manager Dooin approached the subject nearest his heart and sounded the prospects of succeeding Luderus. Magee is firmly convinced that he can make good in the new position and thinks he can do better work there than in the outfield.

Manager Dooin made no promises, but it is likely that Magee will get a trial at first when the team goes south.

CATCHER HENRY SIGNS UP.

Washington, Feb. 3.—John Henry, the Washington American league team's star catcher, who was laid up for a time by an operation on his knee, has entirely recovered and yesterday signed his contract for the coming season.

CHASE STAYS WITH YANKEES AND NO CHANCE FOR TRADE.

New York, Feb. 3.—There has been a vast amount of rumors floating throughout the baseball land to the effect that Hal Chase would be traded when Frank Chance took charge of the Yankees. In fact, it was said up and down the baseball line by some that it would be a great idea if Chance were to give Chase the order of that famous hardware.

There are some folks here who are of the opinion that Chase is a trouble-maker, and that he is a handicap to the New York club. That opinion prevails among some. But the manager wants him, so that ends it. Rumor went so far as to say that Chase was to be fired, Cobb was to be transferred to New York and Lajoie would be seen skipping about second base for the Yankees.

To get a real line on what Frank Chance thinks of Chase, just listen to what the manager had to say, when he landed back in Glendora to his many friends:

"There is no plan on foot to dispose of Chase. It would be the height of folly for me to even consider such a move at this time. I am not sure yet that I will be able to stand the heat back there, and in that event would need Chase at first base.

"I'm going to tell you just how much I think of Chase as a ball player. I wouldn't trade him for Ty Cobb. Admitting that Cobb is the greatest outfielder in the history of the game, Chase is one of the greatest infielders that ever lived.

"An infielder will handle ten chances where an outfielder will handle one. You can see for yourself which would be of greater value to the club.

"I do not say that I will not trade Chase or any other member of the team. In fact, I would make any kind of a trade if I could figure out where it would strengthen the team. But I am contemplating nothing of the kind at present.

"I will admit that I would like to have Lajoie, but I have been told that there is no chance to get him away from Cleveland."

Chance does not think that the Yanks are such a bad team as they now stand. It will surprise many to know that he figures a new third baseman as the only addition necessary to make the club a first division runner.

LEAGUE DID NOT ELECT OFFICERS

Shop Managers Will Hold Another Meeting to Select Men.

EIGHT CLUBS PRESENT

Another meeting of the managers of the Fort Wayne shop league clubs will be held on Friday evening, Feb. 21, at which the officers for next year will be elected, the schedule committee appointed and plans fixed for the start of another season.

Just whether President John Wessel, jr., and Secretary John Alt will serve again is a question that will be settled at the next session. Both of these officers rendered good service last year but as they pay nothing except the glory attached to them it has been customary to change from year to year.

Bowser & Co. and the Wayne Oil Tank works will not be represented in the league and it will be composed of the Wayne Knits, Electro-Technics, Western Gas Construction company, Bass Foundry & Machine company, Van Arnam Manufacturing company, Pennsylvania, Wabash and Rolling mills.

Secretary John Wessel submitted some time ago a full list of averages and has gone into such elaborate detail in his efforts to make them complete that another big task is necessary in preparing them for publication.

It was thought for a time that the Wabash would not be represented but it had a representative on hand for the session and it was stated the club will be back this year.

C'DAY TO THE AMERICAN.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—Hank O'Day, last season's manager of the Cincinnati National league team, will sign a contract in a few days to be an umpire in the American league, according to information given out by his friends here today.

They also say that O'Day claims $1,000 bonus for his service last year which he declares he was promised by President Herrmann if the Cincinnati team finished in the first division.

MEISNER SIGNS CONTRACT.

Zanesville, O., Feb. 3.—Herbert "Dutch" Meissner, local outfielder, tendered his signed contract to Manager Hogan Friday. Meissner is the second player to sign his contract with the local club, the other being Walter Tragresser, who is scheduled to do the bulk of the catching for the locals this season. Meissner, it is expected, will figure in a trade that will bring a pitcher to the local club.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—Two to eight inches of snow in Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri had a bearish effect today on wheat. A big increase of the amount of wheat on ocean passage counted also against the bulls. Cables were ignored. The opening was ¼c to ⅜@½c lower. May started at 93¼@93⅜c to 93⅝c, a drop of ¼@⅝c, and declined to 92½c. Argentine advices that drought had cut the export surplus in half made corn here rally. May opened a shade to ¼@¼c off at 52⅝c to 52¾c and then rose to ⅝@⅝c. Selling on the part of leading firms eased oats. May, which started unchanged at 34c, declined to 33⅞@34c.

Smallness of the visible supply decrease tended to weaken the market yesterday more. The close was nervous, with May ⅛c net lower at 93⅛@93¼c.

Provisions appeared a little heavy owing to buyers' wants being supplied. First sales ranged from Saturday night's level to 5c lower, including May at $19.10 for pork and $10.15 for lard and ribs.

Lightness on acceptances helped keep the market firm. The close was active. May 52½@52⅝c.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Feb. 3.—Declines in most of the leading stocks at the opening today gave the list an appearance of heaviness. Pressure was greatest against Southern Pacific, which dropped 1⅝. Can yielded a point and Steel 5/8. Steel Foundry and Colorado Fuel opened up ¾, although the latter stock fell back 1¼ from its opening price on the next few transactions.

Developments over Sunday were not reassuring to the bull faction and the bears had the upper hand during early operations today. Likelihood of resumption of hostilities in the Balkans and threats of widespread labor troubles in the steel industry were of effect in depressing values. Trading was held in check by uncertainty whether the supreme court would hand down the Minnesota rate decision today. Marked declines were confined to a comparatively few issues and later there was a gradual recovery. Union Pacific strength contrasted sharply with the heaviness of Southern Pacific. Coal stocks and Reid issues were higher. Bonds were steady.

constitution will be known as the "Sixteenth Amendment" and reads as follows:

"Article XVI.—The congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the states, and without regard to any census or enumeration."

The change in the fundamental law of the land marks a new epoch in the American tax system. For the first time congress is given specific authority by a provision of the federal constitution to levy an income tax. All previous efforts for a tax of this kind have been without the explicit authority of a constitutional provision. The change also marks a broad development of the economic and fiscal system of the United States, permitting incomes to be a basis for taxation, similar to the systems now in force in Great Britain, Austria, Switzerland, Spain and various other countries.

New Source of Revenue.

Probably the most important aspect of an income tax, as now authorized by the constitution, is that it adds a new source of revenue for the government. At present the two great sources of government revenue are customs duties levied by tariff acts on goods imported from foreign countriesIli und internal revenue taxes on tobacco, spirits, oleomargarine and certain other articles. Each of these sources at present produces a little less than half of the total revenues of the government. In 1911 the total government revenues were $700,100,906 and of this customs duties yielded $313,846,269, while internal revenue taxes yielded $331,759,375. The remainder came from sales of public lands, the corporation tax and various miscellaneous sources. Under an income tax, however, a new and far-reaching source of revenue is provided for the government, and this will in turn reduce the amounts required from the other sources of revenue, customs and internal revenue, in order to meet the expenses of th government. This last phase is likely to have an important bearing on tariff legislation as hereafter enacted.

Before the amendment formally becomes a part of the constitution today's action of the legislature must be transmitted to the secretary of state at Washington and proclamation of the ratification made.

WYOMING ACTED QUICKLY.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Feb. 3.—Under a suspension of the rules, both houses of the Wyoming legislature this morning passed the joint resolution ratifying the income tax amendment to the federal constitution.

DELAWARE TOO LATE.

Dover, Del., Feb. 3.—Believing that Delaware would make the thirty-sixth state to ratify the federal income tax amendment and thus make it effective, the legislature rushed through a joint resolution ratifying the amendment. The action was taken at noon today.

George M. Haffner, a member of the executive board of the National Association of Master Bakers, left Saturday night for Dallas, Tex., to attend a quarterly meeting of the board. From St. Louis the trip to Dallas will be made in a special car with other members of the organization.

vizer, stated emphatically today that he would not allow any correspondents within twenty miles of the lines.

Bulgaria made a small concession today when she consented to the proposals of the powers that Turkey should be allowed to appoint a representative of the Caliph to reside in Adrianople after the cession of the city to the allies.

Finances Demoralized.

The finances of all the states concerned in the war are in a condition of demoralization and Turkey will emerge from the conflict practically bankrupt.

Sir Richard Crawfords who has been adviser to the Turkish minister of finance since 1911, left London today for Constantinople. He has arranged for two small loans of $2,500,000 during his stay here. These are to meet the pressing needs of the Porte, but they depend on peaceful settlement. With the prospective resumption of the war, Turkey is deprived of even this slender resource.

Another recommendation is the amendment for popular election for United States senator.

Edward F. Dunne took the oath of office at noon today and became the first democratic governor of Illinois since John P. Altgeld went out of office in 1897. Today's function was a delayed one, the legislative deadlock having delayed the ceremonies.

The house of representatives was packed with members of the general assembly, the incoming and outgoing state officers, members of their families and friends, together with as many of the general public as could get admission tickets to witness the inaugural ceremonies.

DEATH COMES TO WILLIAM PATTON

as high priest of the chapter. He always spent considerable time each day at the Scottish Rite cathedral, corner of Washington boulevard and Clinton street, and was one of the familiar characters about the institution.

Surviving he leaves four daughters and one son—Mrs. Frank Sallier and Mrs. Hugh Olds, of Fort Wayne; Mrs. William Browand, of Auburn; Mrs. Oscar R. Thompson, of Colorado Springs, and G. W. Patton, of Fort Wayne. There are also two grandchildren Francis Sallier, of Fort Wayne, and Eugene Browand, of Auburn. Three brothers and three sisters also survive. They are George Patton, of Seattle; Miles and James Patton, of Canada; Mrs. John Beardsell, of London, Ont., and Mrs. Adam Kelly and Mrs. Kitchen.

MEETING POSTPONED.

The meeting of the Marshall club, which was scheduled for this evening, has been postponed until Wednesday evening, February the 5th, at which time final arrangements will be made for the trip to Washington to participate in the inauguration of President-elect Woodrow Wilson and Vice President-elect Thomas R. Marshall.

URGES CITY AID TO POOR.

Chicago Health Commissioner Stands at Head of "Bread Line."

Chicago, Feb. 3.—For more than one hour last night Dr. George B. Young, city health commissioner, stood at the head of a bread line on the west side and handed sandwiches to "down and outs" with Malcolm McIlowell, who for several winters has fed the poor men of the district. When he had handed out the last morsel of food Dr. Young said that his first study of the bread line had convinced him that the city ought to do something for the casually employed instead of leaving them to private charity. He said the line should be transferred to the municipal lodging house with the city paying the bills and that a free employment agency should be run in connection with it.

WAS COLLEGE GRADUATE.

Slain Chicago Highwayman Also Former Football Star.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—James Higgins, the highwayman who was killed by Detective Ottenhue in the act of holding up a saloon early Sunday morning, was a graduate of a west side college and a star member of its football team during the last two years of his course, the police learned today. Higgins was 23 years old and is said to have been a chum of "Trilby" Thompson, who escaped from Joliet penitentiary a few months ago and who is now sought by the police in connection with several recent robberies.

OIL SCORES ANOTHER RISE.

Few Wells Are Being Put Down, Despite Higher Prices.

Hartford City, Ind., Feb. 3.—The advance in the price of Indiana crude oil continues. Another 3 cents was tacked on Saturday, making Hoosier and South Lima crude $1.29 and North Lima $1.34. The steady increase in price has had little effect on the quantity of production in the Indiana field, few new wells having been put down.

GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Robert Crumely Convicted by Jury at Covington.

Covington, Ind., Feb. 3.—Albert Crumely, on trial for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Anna Hutchens Crumely, on the night of Oct. 3 last, was found guilty today of manslaughter by a jury which had been out since Saturday afternoon. Crumely was charged with murder in the first degree, and his defense was insanity. Thirteen blows with an ax were inflicted on the woman's head, face and body.

Prosecutor Claude H. Philpot announced that the state would ask a retrial, declaring that the verdict would not stand in the higher courts.

TUMULTY GETS THE PLACE.

Wilson's Secretary to Continue in Job at Washington.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 3.—Joseph Patrick Tumulty, at present private secretary to Governor Wilson, will be secretary to the president after March 4, according to announcement by President-elect Wilson today.

LAMP POSTS FOR CENTER OF CITY

New Lighting System to Be Extended if the Project Stands.

RESOLUTIONS ARE IN

If resolutions prepared to be passed this afternoon by the board of public works are not defeated by remonstrance the ornamental lighting system will be extended so as to embrace the greater part of central Fort Wayne.

Under the plans proposed in the resolution the lights will be placed on Columbia street, from Harrison street to the Maumee river bridge, on Clinton street from Columbia to Jefferson, for the same distance on Harrison street, and on Jefferson street, Washington boulevard and Wayne street, between Clinton and Harrison. The system on Calhoun street will be extended to Creighton avenue and on Main to Broadway.

The same plan will be followed as was followed on Calhoun street. The installation will be assessed against the abutting property and the current will be supplied free from the municipal plant. This will not be a great burden, as the are lights in this district will be taken down and used in extending the street lightling in the outside districts.

The hearing on the separation of grades at Harrison street and the Pennsylvania and Wabash tracks was set for Feb. 14.

ROANOKE MAN DIES.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Roanoke, Ind., Feb. 3.—Adam Rendchen, aged sixty-nine years, a well known resident of Huntington county, died at 11:30 o'clock Sunday night after a short illness. Mr. Rendchen was born in Germany, March 1, 1844, and came to this country at the age of eighteen years, settling in Starke county, Ohio. He moved to Jackson township, Huntington county, thirty-one years ago, and two years ago he retired from the farm and had resided in this city. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, highly respected and widely known.

Surviving he leaves the widow and four children—John A. Rendchen, Miss Catherine Rendchen and Mrs. Julia Billinger, of Jackson township, and Mrs. Cora Schlopp, of Louisville. He also leaves six brothers and one sister residing at Canton, Ohio.

Funeral services Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the home in Roanoke. Interment will be made at Glenwood cemetery.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC PARKS.
OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF PARK COMMISSIONERS OF THE CITY OF FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

Notice is hereby given by the Board of Park Commissioners of the City of Fort Wayne, Indiana, that on the 1st day of February, 1913, the said Board deeming it necessary to make certain public improvements, adopted the following resolution:

BUILDING LINE RESOLUTION NO. 2, 1913.

Board of Park Commissioners, City of Fort Wayne, Indiana.

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Park Commissioners of the City of Fort Wayne that under the powers conferred upon this Board by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana by an Act approved March 6, 1911, it has this day determined to establish a building line determining the distance at which all structures, fronting on both sides of Rudisill Boulevard, commencing at the East line of Hanna Street and running East to the West line of the alley West of Thomas Street, shall be erected, which line is to be established by condemning and appropriating for the purposes, a sufficient part of the land described as follows: All that real estate twenty-five (25) feet North of the North property line of Rudisill Boulevard and all that real estate twenty-five (25) feet South of the South property line of Rudisill Boulevard from the East line of Hanna Street to the West line of the alley West of Thomas Street. Said appropriation shall be understood to be condemnation and the perpetual annihilation of all rights of the owners of property which shall front on said Rudisill Boulevard, or across which said building lines shall run, to erect any building or structure whatever on any part thereof between such building line and said North and South line of said Rudisill Boulevard, however, with perpetual and irrevocable free license of said abutting owners or their grantees to use and occupy such land between said building line hereby established and the outside lines of said Rudisill Boulevard for all purposes except the erection of buildings or other structures; said land hereby appropriated and condemned and said building line as established hereby is more fully shown by a plan of the same on file in the office of said Board, which condemnation as therein and herein set out is now ordered; that Saturday, the 1st day of March, 1913, at 3 o'clock P. M., be the day when said Board will take final action confirming or rescinding this resolution, and at that time said Board will hear remonstrances of persons interested in or affected by this resolution; that notice of the passage and purport of this resolution be published in The Fort Wayne Sentinel once each week for two successive weeks.

That this Board deems that the real estate that may be injuriously or beneficially affected by the improvement and condemnation herein provided for to be all the real estate abutting on Rudisill Boulevard along the line of said building line.

The Board of Park Commissioners will, on the 1st day of March, 1913, at 3 o'clock P. M., at the office of said Board, take final action confirming or rescinding said resolution, and at that time said Board will hear remonstrances of all persons interested in or affected by said resolution.

First Glimpses of Spring Fashions

SATURDAY was the farewell to all Winter clothes in our Garment section. Today the brightness of Spring will appear in the lovely new Suits and Frocks, and women eager for the first sight of new fashions, will be captivated with this early display.

The materials are beautiful, and come from many countries across the seas. There are worsteds from England, new poplins from Germany, eponge from France, and many American serges of fine weave.

The colors are lovely, with Nell Rose strongly in the lead. And the blues!—they are more beautiful in tones than ever. The dyer has looked to a new source for his shades this season, and found inspiration in the ocean. "Atlantic" blues reflect all the elusive tints of the sea, each one more beautiful than the other.

The staple greys and tans seem to take on some new hues this season to make them look new and different from the shades of former years.

Through careful buying and close figuring with the best makers, we have found excellent suits to sell at $15.00 and $16.75. But at $25.00 we can offer the best that can be produced at this price. The newest styles and fine tailoring make these suits a line that cannot be approached. Other Spring Suits in this initial display of four hundred new garments are priced at $35.00, $45.00, $50.00 and $60.00.

Habeas Corpus Writ Stays Jail Sentence of Col. W. R. Nelson.

IN CLASH WITH COURT

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 3.—Only persistent efforts of counsel saved William R. Nelson, editor and owner of the Kansas City Star, from jail Saturday, after a sentence of one day's imprisonment for contempt had been pronounced by Judge Joseph A. Guthrie, of the Jackson county circuit court.

The charge was that Mr. Nelson, through his paper, had defamed the court in the publication of an article stating that the judge, upon the advice of a divorce lawyer, had allowed attorneys' fees to take precedence over alimony in a divorce suit that was dismissed without being brought to trial.

Frank P. Walsh, counsel for Mr. Nelson, protested against his client being denied the right of a few minutes' consultation with him.

"Fulfill the order, Mr. Sheriff," said Judge Guthrie. "This court is through with the case."

Mr. Walsh pleaded first with the sheriff, then with the judge that the action contemplated was without precedent and the court finally relented and granted ten minutes in which to present a writ of habeas corpus and presently one of Mr. Walsh's assistants, bearing the writ, pushed through the crowd which filled the court room. Execution of the sentence being stayed, the defendant was taken immediately to the Kansas City court of appeals, where Judge J. M. Johnson released Mr. Nelson on his own recognizance in bail of $100 to appear for a hearing Wednesday, Feb. 5.

"Mr. Nelson never will spend one minute in the county jail," said Judge Ralph S. Latshaw, of the criminal court, here Saturday evening. Judge Latshaw has jurisdiction over the county marshal and the jail, and he ordered the marshal never to enter Mr. Nelson's name on the recording book of the jail if he should ever be brought in obedience to the sentence imposed upon him Saturday.

"It would be a reproach to the commonwealth for a man who has done as much for Kansas City as Mr. Nelson has done to be carted away to jail like a common thing. I will not allow such a procedure."

JOHNSON LOSES IN HIGH COURT

Negro Pugilist's Appeal is Dismissed by Supreme Tribunal.

NOT ENTITLED TO IT

Washington, Feb. 3. The supreme court today dismissed the appeal of Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, indicted in Chicago on a charge of violating the federal white slave act, from the decision of the federal court of northern Illinois.

Johnson's appeal was from the Illinois federal court's refusal to sustain a writ of habeas corpus by which the pugilist's lawyers sought to test the constitutionality of the white slave act in violation of which Johnson was charged with transporting in interstate commerce Belle Schreiber, from Pittsburg, Pa., to Chicago, Ill.

Justice Lamar announced the decision of the court which held that a person was not entitled to raise the constitutionality of a law on habeas corpus unless all other means of testing its validity had been exhausted. In the meanwhile, the court pointed out, Johnson had been released on bail.

The court did not pass on the constitutionality of the law in any particular.

GOVERNMENT IS GIVEN SETBACK

Court Holds Formation of Shoe Machinery Concern Not Unlawful.

LEASES NOT ISSUE

Washington, Feb. 3.—The government today suffered its first big defeat in the recent anti-trust campaign when the supreme court held that the officials of the United Shoe Machinery company had not violated the Sherman anti-trust law by organizing that company. The court, however, has not passed upon legality of the system by which the company leases machines on terms that no "independent" machinery be used.

Justice Holmes, announcing the unanimous decision of the court, said that the lower court regarded the indictment as merely referring to the organization of the company not to the "tying clause" leases. That being the case, he added, the supreme court must accept that interpretation without question. He said this reduced the case to a narrow compass, and pointed out that the several groups combined in the organization of the machinery were non-competitive. The justice declared the Sherman law did not contemplate the doing of business by the smallest possible isolated units. Two indictments were brought against the shoe machinery officials. The decision today concerned only one of these indictments.

The government will prosecute officials of the United Shoe Machinery company under the one remaining indictment, it was announced at the department of justice today. That indictment charges monopoly and unfair competitive methods and is declared by officials to be the most important of the indictments returned against the company.

GOLD WAVE COMING EASTWARD.

Decided Drop in Temperature Is Now Merrily On Its Way.

Washington, Feb. 3.—The cold wave which has driven the mercury below the zero mark between Minnesota and North Dakota, is about to move eastward, and the weather bureau says will be felt over the territory between eastern Montana, western New York and Pennsylvania and as far south as Mississippi.

Tonight a decided drop in the upper lake region, the Ohio and Mississippi valleys and the gulf states is predicted. Colder weather is forecasted for Tuesday in the Atlantic states when the mixture of snow and rain general today east of the Mississippi valley, will be displaced by fair, crisp weather.

ATTENTION, BUFFALOES!

Delegates to the supreme meeting will make report Tuesday evening, Feb. 4. Every member should be present. J. M. Calhoun, Pres. Law Nicklas, Secy. 3-2t

BODY IS BROUGHT HERE FOR BURIAL

Louis Jabas Worried Over Parents' Death and Ends Own Life.

AT INDIANAPOLIS

Louis Jabas, aged about thirty-five years, well known in Fort Wayne, committed suicide Saturday afternoon at Indianapolis. Deputy Coroner Ralph S. Chappel, of Indianapolis, in a message to local authorities, stated that the man ended his life by drinking poison.

Jabas was found in his room in the Hazelton hotel, corner of East and Washington streets, and letters left by him in the room showed that he had carefully planned his end. One message was as follows:

"In case of death or accident, notify Ora Gill, Winston flats. A letter was also found, addressed to Perry I. Stahl, of this city. The letter to Mr. Stahl leads to the belief that the man took his own life on account of ill health. The letter follows:

"Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 1, 1913.

"Perry I. Stahl, 629 Calhoun street, Fort Wayne.—It's left to you to adjust property, real estate and stock in different concerns, and money in banks, to be equally divided between Alfred Jabas, — — Jabas, Malinda Swisse and a sister, married. Papers to be found in Box 220, National City bank; also some in my trunk, in room 29, Hazelton hotel.

"LOUIS E. JABAS."

"P. S.—Mr. Rfy. Berne, Ind., Box No. 84, can get you their addresses. Without good health life is naught."

Worry Cause of Deed.

Mr. Stahl believes that ill health, occasioned by worry over the fact that he had been connected with the mysterious death of his parents a few years ago, led the man to suicide. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emilie Jabas, were found dead in bed at the home on East Lewis street, where they lived alone, July 28, 1909. The bodies were in such a condition that foul play was suspected. Although Louis Jabas was out of town at the time, and later proved that he was in no way to blame for the death of his parents, he thought, it is said, that the people of Fort Wayne suspected him and accused him of his parents' death.

After neighbors had reported the death of the two old people, Coronor A. J. Kessler, in an investigation found both bodies with the hyoid bones of the neck broken. The police were notified, and they arrived at the conclusion that the two people had been murdered. Although Louis was not in Fort Wayne, he was sole heir to their estate, and the theory was advanced that he had taken the lives of his parents, or that he knew something of their death.

The police, sheriff and prosecutor worked on the case for a long time, and later brought Louis Jabas to Fort Wayne, but became convinced that he was not guilty of the crime, and when a post-mortem was made, many were of the opinion that the aged pair did not meet death by violence.

The son was allowed to go, but it is said he worried considerably about the affair, and became despondent when ill health came to him.

Mr. Stahl went to Indianapolis Sunday and returned with the body. It has been removed to the Getz and Cahill undertaking parlors to be held until burial.
